Lyndon Johnson Says President Did Not Use Facts

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The Senate's Republican leader, Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, told his colleagues today President Truman's statements are "losing their ring of truth."

And GOP Senator Capehart of Indiana described as "a malicious untruth" Truman's claim that the Republican party wants to turn the country over to big business.

Both Bridges and Capehart distributed advance copies of speeches questioning the accuracy of statements Truman made in his political speech Saturday night to the Americans for Democratic Action.

They thus joined the chorus of replies to the President.

Johnson Takes Issue

On the Senate floor yesterday Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D.-Tex.) said Truman had not followed the facts in asserting that a bill passed by Congress to give the states title to the oil-rich submerged lands off their coasts is like "robbery in broad daylight."

"The President's statement on robbery is no more accurate than his statement on ownership of the submerged lands," Johnson declared. "Possibly if he had taken the time to look up the facts he would not have been so reckless in his language."

Johnson contended Truman's assertion that federal ownership of the lands had been affirmed by the Supreme Court was not an accurate statement of the facts.

More Than Matched

This Democratic criticism of Truman's veracity was more than matched by Sen. Herman Welker (R.-Idaho). Welker accused the President of making an "utter falsehood" in naming him as one of a group of Senate GOP members who criticised Sen. Alexander Wiley (R.-Wis.) for defending

Held as Hostage

Scott A. Magness, U.S. Civil Aeronautics Authority safety advisor, is reported being held hostage by 30 or more armed Indian guides and newsmen, members of a private expedition, at the scene of last month's crash of a Pan American Stratocruiser in the Brazilian jungle. The expedition is reported holding him and others hostage to gain their evacuation from the jungle by airlift. (AP Wirephoto).

Captives Declare Situation Turned In Brazilian Woods

Parachutists Are Sent to Area to Rescue Officials—Looting Takes Place

Belem, Brazil, May 20 (AP)—The captives reportedly have turned captor today in the latest episode of Brazil's jungle rescue mixup. A Brazilian major radioed he had foiled a rival search group which held him and an American aviation official hostage at the scene of last month's crash of a Pan American stratocruiser.

This cryptic message was received last night from Maj. Miranda Correa as three planes with 38 Brazilian parachutists were sent from Rio De Janeiro to rescue him and Scott A. Magness of Miami, Fla., U. S. Civil Aeronautics Authority safety adviser.

The pair, members of an official Brazilian-American expedition to the crash scene, had been reported held by some 35 Brazilians, Indian guides and newsmen as hostages to ensure their own safe evacuation by airlift. The latter were part of an unofficial group sent to the crash scene by a Brazilian politician as a private gesture.

Members of Party

Correa and Magness were members of the official party which set up a base at Lagoa Grande, 900 miles north of Rio De Janeiro, and trekked through 35 miles of jungle to the scene where the stratocruiser crashed April 29 and killed all 50 aboard. They reached the scene Friday.

The unofficial party got there first by dropping parachutists 3½ miles from the spot and preparing a landing site for helicopters. This group was headed by Lino De Matos of Sao Paulo, a state legislator, and was financed by Adhemar De Barros, head of the Brazilian Airlines and a possible presidential candidate.

Correa's message last night said the official party on arrival found the area ransacked and all money and jewelry which the plane passengers presumably carried missing. Arrangements are being made to search the freelance rescuers when they get to Belem.

All Die Instantly

A Pan American announcement said all 50 aboard had died instantly and that Brazilian officials had ordered immediate burial of the bodies on the spot.

Correa's message said he had a landing strip ready where a light plane could touch down. It was expected he and the others would be brought out of the jungle clearing beginning today.

There was no word early today of the whereabouts of the parachutist rescuers from Rio.

After the inspection of the crash and burial of the victims, a helicopter had begun ferrying the official party back to Lagoa Grande. Magness and Correa, however, reportedly went to the site cleared by the rival group.

Cry Arises Over Potato Shortages

Brings Heated Debate on Federal Programs for Farmers—Recalls Pig Slaughter in '30s

Short in Ulster

State Says Danger Point Here Passes as Season Advances

Washington, May 20 (AP)—This year's potato shortage seems to be providing just about as heated a debate on the federal farm programs as did the government project of killing little pigs to raise pork prices in the early 1930s.

Officials say there is considerable criticism of ceilings on potato prices and a lack of price supports.

The pig-killing program raised such a furor that, every time meat has become scarce since then, the Agriculture Department has been flooded with an avalanche of mail harkening back to those days. That plan, sponsored by Henry A. Wallace, then the agriculture secretary, was designed to boost hog prices by reducing pork supplies.

The current potato shortage developed largely because farmers cut production 20 per cent last year. Most of this reduction came in the late potato crop—that portion which goes into storage for use during the winter, spring and early summer.

Output Reduced

Farmers reduced their output after Congress directed the Agriculture Department to withdraw price supports. Congress did away with supports because they had cost the government more than 600 million dollars over a 10-year period.

Fearing a possible price collapse, farmers turned to more promising crops.

When it became apparent that stocks might not be large enough prices started moving upward. The Office of Price Stabilization stepped in with ceilings. But until corrected, inequities in ceilings as applied market by market served to divert supplies to some markets and away from others.

The shortage has been aggravated by black markets which have given some consumers more than their share.

Asks Black Market Fight

Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall urged yesterday that the public fight against black marketing by refusing to pay more than ceiling prices.

Arnall predicted the shortage would be relieved in the next four to six weeks by the movement of new potatoes to market. This early crop is grown mostly in Florida, Alabama, Texas and California.

But the shortage is not likely to be fully overcome until the intermediate crop is harvested. This is grown in midland states—the Carolinas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas, Maryland and New Jersey.

Body Recovered

The State Patrol reported that the body of Art Jessett (above), 20-year-old University of Washington student, has been recovered from the icy crevasse he fell into on Mount St. Helens near Spirit Lake, Wash. (AP Wirephoto).

Father Intones Final Rites Over Son; Dies in Fall

Young Student Slips Into Narrow Chasm on Washington Mountain

Spirit Lake, Wash., May 20 (AP)—Rescuers paused on a mountain path last night as a grief stricken clergyman intoned the last rites of the church over the body of his son who died in an icy crevasse high on Mount St. Helens.

The youth, 20-year-old Arthur Jessett, slipped into the narrow chasm at the mountain's 8,000-foot level while on a climbing trip with three companions Sunday.

He lived a number of hours talking to his companions, as the slipping ice eased him deeper and deeper into the crevasse. Meanwhile, climbers fought frantically to rescue him..

Late yesterday, expert mountaineers were lowered 75 feet into the frigid tomb and recovered the young university of Washington student's body where it lay incased in ice.

Somber Party Is Met

The father, the Rev. Thomas E. Jessett, met the somber party as it descended through fog and rain to this mountain lake in southwest Washington.

He opened the Episcopal book of common prayer and read in a strained voice:

"Into Thy hands, O merciful Savior, we commend the soul of this Thy servant, now departed from the body . . ."

Then the father dropped to his knees, faced the sky, and cried: "My son! My son! My son!"

He rose and shook hands with each of the eight ski patrolmen who had affected the near-impossible recovery.

Dr. Otto Trott, who was with the ski patrol party, said the boy had been dead about 12 hours. He died of exposure.

Young Jessett apparently had been able to break his fall only

Half Billion Statute Is Given as Aid

Flat Boost of 4 Per Cent in Base Pay of All and 14 Per Cent for Food, Rental

Affects This Month

Act Is Signed Soon Enough to Bring Raises Now

Washington, May 20 (AP)—President Truman has signed the bill boosting pay and allowances in the military services by nearly half a billion dollars a year.

The White House announced the signing today. It came in time—Truman had until the end of this month—for the raises to become effective with this month's pay vouchers.

Range of Benefits

Intended to help offset higher living costs, they range from $3 monthly for privates and seamen to $65 for two-star generals and admirals.

They apply to approximately 3½ million active as well as retired personnel.

In the final version of the legislation, there was no provision, such as the Senate once voted, to give an extra $45 monthly to men who are fighting in or have fought in Korea. This may be taken up later under a separate measure.

Flat Boost for Food

The pay raise bill calls for a flat boost of 4 per cent in base pay of all personnel and an increase of 14 per cent in allowances for food and rental.

It would give the average low-ranking enlisted man a $3 monthly raise, or 4 per cent of the present $75 pay. Most of these men have no dependents and their food and lodging are furnished by the government, so the majority are not affected by the increase in allowances.

For enlisted personnel with dependents, the monthly increase in pay and allowances would range from $13 to $19.

Rail Unions Study Plan Aimed at End of 3-Year Tiff

Proposal Would Effect Five Things; Will Act as One in Final Decision

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Three big railroad unions today studied a labor peace plan the White House hopes will end a three-year dispute on the nation's railroads.

The engineers, firemen and conductors, with a combined membership of more than 150,000 were handed the contract proposal by presidential assistant John R. Steelman yesterday afternoon. So were the railroads, and they accepted it quickly.

The unions were set for all-day, separate sessions. But they agreed to act as one on final acceptance or rejection.

Three Possible Results

Steelman's proposal, submitted on a take-it-or-leave-it basis, would do these things:

1. Boost wages for men in yard service by 37 cents an hour, of which 12½ cents is already being paid.

2. Boost wages for men who work on the open road by 22½ cents an hour, five cents of which already in effect.

3. Give the train unions substantially what they wanted on a highly controversial working or operating rule involving crews which take a train through a divisional point. A change in this rule demanded by the carriers was described by union officials

Red Prison Riot Spreads to Pusan; Communist Killed

American Guard Suffers Minor Injury in Camp No. 10; Boatner Acts

Pusan, Korea, May 20 (AP)—Communist war prisoner rioting spread to a Pusan camp today and flared in two new but minor revolts at violence-ridden Koje Island Camp No. 1.

One Red POW was killed and 85 were injured at Pusan.

One American guard suffered a minor injury in the 2½-hour battle of clubs and fists in Pusan Camp No. 10. No shot were fired by the combat-wise United Nations guards, although they were armed.

On Koje, it was disclosed that two mild revolts were settled without incident by the new camp commander, Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, during the first four days of his command.

Reports Studied

These occurred while high-ranking officers of Gen. Mark Clark's Far East command in Tokyo studied reports on February-March Koje riots in which 90 Red male POWs and one American soldier were killed.

One of the minor new Koje flareups involved the 400 women prisoners of war and civilian internees held on that island, 30 miles southwest of Pusan. The other was a sitdown strike by prisoner inmates of a UN command hospital and their prisoner-doctors.

Boatner settled both with persuasion and firmness. There was no violence, no shots were fired, and no one was injured, he said.

At Seoul, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, said the Pusan outbreak resulted from "an attempt by fanatical Communist prisoners of war to resist proper medical treatment of patient inmates of Enclosure 10."

All the prisoners at Pusan previously were reported to have been screened. The army said they professed opposition to communism, and to repatriation to Red areas if a Korean truce is agreed upon.

Pro-Communist prisoners were kept on Koje.

Today, the army said Enclosure 10 is a mixed camp for both Communist prisoners who want to return behind the Bamboo Curtain and anti-Communist prisoners who don't. It did not say whether the rioters were Chinese or North Koreans or both.

Dr. Quinn 'Fair'

Dr. Charles Quinn, of Phoenicia, who has been a patient at the Benedictine Hospital since May 7, was reported in "fair condition" there today.

Prices to Increase On Canned Items

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Prices in many grocery stores go up one to two cents a can today on some canned vegetables, fruits and juices. Housewives can expect increases soon on a large variety of other foods.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said it was granting the higher prices on vegetables, fruits and juices to compensate wholesalers for "markedly lower earnings."

Under this order come canned corn, green beans, peas, tomatoes, tomato juice, canned fruit cocktail, pineapple, peaches and pears.

OPS said most independent stores will be affected but few chain stores will be, since they normally buy direct from producers rather than from wholesalers.

Other Boosts to Come

The agency said it may issue before the end of the month an order permitting retailers to increase their mark-ups on such foods as concentrated coffee, dry cereals, cookies and many canned meats. Canned tuna and salmon would be excepted.

Another OPS order effective today suspends price controls at the manufacturing level on raw cotton and almost all textiles, but this is not expected to have any marked effect on consumer prices. All items covered, including those made of wool, cotton and synthetic fibers have been selling far below ceilings.

Communists Accused of Vicious Blocking; U. S. Pilots Shoot Down 4 Red Jets in Korea

Munsan, Korea, May 20 (AP)—United Nations truce negotiators today accused the Communists of "seeking every vicious means" to block a Korean armistice because of their "fear of the truth."

The specially bitter 62-minute session of Panmunjom produced no progress on the lone issue blocking an armistice—what to do about captured Reds who do not want to return to Communist territory. The Communists want them back.

The truce delegations will meet again tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Tuesday EST).

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, closing out his last days as head of the allied truce team, said that in 10½ months of negotiations "I have not heard such vicious, degrading propaganda as that thrown at us today."

Joy declared the allied stand that no prisoner be forced to return to Red control is governed by the humanitarian principles of the United Nations.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il opened the session by declaring the "public confessions" of Brig. Gen. Charles Colson "have killed and buried the myth that our captured personnel refuse to be repatriated."

Colson wrote a letter to Red POW's in the Koje Island prison stockade to gain the release of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, held as a hostage, The letter has since been repudiated by top UN officers.

Nam Il accused the allies of "inhumane treatment and murderous violence" against captured Reds."

Joy reiterated that the allied proposal of April 28 is "firm, final and irrevocable." This plan called for the return of 70,000 of 169,000 Red soldiers and civilian internees held by the allies. The Reds in a counter proposal demanded that 132,000 captured Red soldiers be returned.

An allied screening of prisoners showed that more than half of the captured Reds said they would resist return to Red rule.

Nam Il said:

"No matter to what barbarous methods you may resort, the righteous voice lifted by our captured personnel before the whole world against your forcible screen-

25,000 Oil Workers Return; More Expected During Day

Denver, May 20 (AP)—An estimated 25,000 of the nation's nearly 90,000 striking oil workers were back on the job today, 21 days after they walked out in a wage dispute.

More are expected to return by nightfall as additional settlements are reached in plant-by-plant negotiations across the country.

Meanwhile airlines, both in the United States and Europe, were faced with loss of considerable revenue as the shortage of aviation gasoline grows. Most lines have curtailed flight schedules. And more cuts are in prospect unless supplies of gas are replenished.

A major break in the strike front was reached yesterday when 10,000 Sinclair Refining Company workers signed a wage agreement. But a dark spot cropped up in the middlewest.

A U. S. Conciliation Service spokesman said negotiations to end the strike of 7,000 workers at Standard Oil of Indiana's Refinery at Whiting, Ind., broke down last night. A similar situation was reported at the Cities Service Company Refinery in East Chicago where 800 are out.

At issue in the strike by 22 CIO, AFL and independent unions, was an hourly wage increase plus increased night shift differentials. The unions originally demanded a 25-cent hourly boost on the average $2 to $2.10 hourly pay.

The Wage Stabilization Board last week recommended a wage increase of 15 cents per hour, effective May 1, with a little more than 9 cents retroactive to Jan. 1, plus an increase in extra pay for night work to 6 cents per hour from 4 for the evening trick and to 12 cents from 6 for the night shift.

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers International Union and other union leaders recommended acceptance of the WSB formula.

Cities Service Oil Company said 700 men returned to work in five plants in the east yesterday.

The workers are employed in a refinery in Linden, N. J., and bulk plants in Long Island City, Queens, New York city, Newark, N. J., Mount Vernon, N. Y. and Braintree, Mass.

Anniversary of Flight

New York, May 20 (AP)—This is the 25th anniversary of the start of Charles A. Lindbergh's epochal solo flight from New York to Paris. Today, about 1,500 persons are over the Atlantic on routine commercial flights following the trail Lindbergh blazed. Lindbergh was a little-known mail pilot when he set out from Roosevelt Field on Long Island on May 20, 1927. He was acclaimed by the whole world when he set down his plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," at Le Bourget Field 33½ hours later. Now 50 years old and publicity shy, he lives quietly with his family at Darien, Conn.

Exchange Alters Hours

New York, May 20 (AP)—The New York Curb Exchange has broken an eighty-year tradition with a decision to remain open for business for five and a half hours daily. John J. Mann, chairman of the Curb Exchange, announced late yesterday that starting June 2 the curb would remain open thirty minutes longer than before on Monday through Friday and close on Saturday during the four summer months. The Saturday closing will start May 31 and trading will be resumed Oct. 4.

Father Intones Final Rites Over Son; Dies in Fall

Young Student Slips Into Narrow Chasm on Washington Mountain

Spirit Lake, Wash., May 20 (AP)—Rescuers paused on a mountain path last night as a grief stricken clergyman intoned the last rites of the church over the body of his son who died in an icy crevasse high on Mount St. Helens.

The youth, 20-year-old Arthur Jessett, slipped into the narrow chasm at the mountain's 8,000-foot level while on a climbing trip with three companions Sunday.

He lived a number of hours talking to his companions, as the slipping ice eased him deeper and deeper into the crevasse. Meanwhile, climbers fought frantically to rescue him.

Late yesterday, expert mountaineers were lowered 75 feet into the frigid tomb and recovered the young university of Washington student's body where it lay incased in ice.

Somber Party Is Met

The father, the Rev. Thomas E. Jessett, met the somber party as it descended through fog and rain to this mountain lake in southwest Washington.

He opened the Episcopal book of common prayer and read in a strained voice:

"Into Thy hands, O merciful Savior, we commend the soul of this Thy servant, now departed from the body . . ."

Then the father dropped to his knees, faced the sky, and cried: "My son! My son! My son!"

He rose and shook hands with each of the eight ski patrolmen who had affected the near-impossible recovery.

Dr. Otto Trott, who was with the ski patrol party, said the boy had been dead about 12 hours. He died of exposure.

Young Jessett apparently had been able to break his fall only

Half Billion Statute Is Given as Aid

Flat Boost of 4 Per Cent in Base Pay of All and 14 Per Cent for Food, Rental

Affects This Month

Act Is Signed Soon Enough to Bring Raises Now

Washington, May 20 (AP)—President Truman has signed the bill boosting pay and allowances in the military services by nearly half a billion dollars a year.

The White House announced the signing today. It came in time—Truman had until the end of this month—for the raises to become effective with this month's pay vouchers.

Range of Benefits

Intended to help offset higher living costs, they range from $3 monthly for privates and seamen to $65 for two-star generals and admirals.

They apply to approximately 3½ million active as well as retired personnel.

In the final version of the legislation, there was no provision, such as the Senate once voted, to give an extra $45 monthly to men who are fighting in or have fought in Korea. This may be taken up later under a separate measure.

Flat Boost for Food

The pay raise bill calls for a flat boost of 4 per cent in base pay of all personnel and an increase of 14 per cent in allowances for food and rental.

It would give the average low-ranking enlisted man a $3 monthly raise, or 4 per cent of the present $75 pay. Most of these men have no dependents and their food and lodging are furnished by the government, so the majority are not affected by the increase in allowances.

For enlisted personnel with dependents, the monthly increase in pay and allowances would range from $13 to $19.

Anniversary of Flight

New York, May 20 (AP)—This is the 25th anniversary of the start of Charles A. Lindbergh's epochal solo flight from New York to Paris. Today, about 1,500 persons are over the Atlantic on routine commercial flights following the trail Lindbergh blazed. Lindbergh was a little-known mail pilot when he set out from Roosevelt Field on Long Island on May 20, 1927. He was acclaimed by the whole world when he set down his plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," at Le Bourget Field 33½ hours later. Now 50 years old and publicity shy, he lives quietly with his family at Darien, Conn.

Proposal Would Effect Five Things; Will Act as One in Final Decision

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Three big railroad unions today studied a labor peace plan the White House hopes will end a three-year dispute on the nation's railroads.

The engineers, firemen and conductors, with a combined membership of more than 150,000 were handed the contract proposal by presidential assistant John R. Steelman yesterday afternoon. So were the railroads, and they accepted it quickly.

The unions were set for all-day, separate sessions. But they agreed to act as one on final acceptance or rejection.

Three Possible Results

Steelman's proposal, submitted on a take-it-or-leave-it basis, would do these things:

1. Boost wages for men in yard service by 37 cents an hour, of which 12½ cents is already being paid.

2. Boost wages for men who work on the open road by 22½ cents an hour, five cents of which already in effect.

3. Give the train unions substantially what they wanted on a highly controversial working or operating rule involving crews which take a train through a divisional point. A change in this rule demanded by the carriers was described by union officials

Red Prison Riot Spreads to Pusan; Communist Killed

American Guard Suffers Minor Injury in Camp No. 10; Boatner Acts

Pusan, Korea, May 20 (AP)—Communist war prisoner rioting spread to a Pusan camp today and flared in two new but minor revolts at violence-ridden Koje Island Camp No. 1.

One Red POW was killed and 85 were injured at Pusan.

One American guard suffered a minor injury in the 2½-hour battle of clubs and fists in Pusan Camp No. 10. No shot were fired by the combat-wise United Nations guards, although they were armed.

On Koje, it was disclosed that two mild revolts were settled without incident by the new camp commander, Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, during the first four days of his command.

Reports Studied

These occurred while high-ranking officers of Gen. Mark Clark's Far East command in Tokyo studied reports on February-March Koje riots in which 90 Red male POWs and one American soldier were killed.

One of the minor new Koje flareups involved the 400 women prisoners of war and civilian internees held on that island, 30 miles southwest of Pusan. The other was a sitdown strike by prisoner inmates of a UN command hospital and their prisoner-doctors.

Boatner settled both with persuasion and firmness. There was no violence, no shots were fired, and no one was injured, he said.

At Seoul, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, said the Pusan outbreak resulted from "an attempt by fanatical Communist prisoners of war to resist proper medical treatment of patient inmates of Enclosure 10."

All the prisoners at Pusan previously were reported to have been screened. The army said they professed opposition to communism, and to repatriation to Red areas if a Korean truce is agreed upon.

Pro-Communist prisoners were kept on Koje.

Today, the army said Enclosure 10 is a mixed camp for both Communist prisoners who want to return behind the Bamboo Curtain and anti-Communist prisoners who don't. It did not say whether the rioters were Chinese or North Koreans or both.

Dr. Quinn 'Fair'

Dr. Charles Quinn, of Phoenicia, who has been a patient at the Benedictine Hospital since May 7, was reported in "fair condition" there today.

Communists Accused of Vicious Blocking; U. S. Pilots Shoot Down 4 Red Jets in Korea

Munsan, Korea, May 20 (AP)—United Nations truce negotiators today accused the Communists of "seeking every vicious means" to block a Korean armistice because of their "fear of the truth."

The specially bitter 62-minute session of Panmunjom produced no progress on the lone issue blocking an armistice—what to do about captured Reds who do not want to return to Communist territory. The Communists want them back.

The truce delegations will meet again tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Tuesday EST).

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, closing out his last days as head of the allied truce team, said that in 10½ months of negotiations "I have not heard such vicious, degrading propaganda as that thrown at us today."

Joy declared the allied stand that no prisoner be forced to return to Red control is governed by the humanitarian principles of the United Nations.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il opened the session by declaring the "public confessions" of Brig. Gen. Charles Colson "have killed and buried the myth that our captured personnel refuse to be repatriated."

Colson wrote a letter to Red POW's in the Koje Island prison stockade to gain the release of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, held as a hostage, The letter has since been repudiated by top UN officers.

Nam Il accused the allies of "inhumane treatment and murderous violence" against captured Reds."

Joy reiterated that the allied proposal of April 28 is "firm, final and irrevocable." This plan called for the return of 70,000 of 169,000 Red soldiers and civilian internees held by the allies. The Reds in a counter proposal demanded that 132,000 captured Red soldiers be returned.

An allied screening of prisoners showed that more than half of the captured Reds said they would resist return to Red rule.

Nam Il said:

"No matter to what barbarous methods you may resort, the righteous voice lifted by our captured personnel before the whole world against your forcible screen-

25,000 Oil Workers Return; More Expected During Day

Denver, May 20 (AP)—An estimated 25,000 of the nation's nearly 90,000 striking oil workers were back on the job today, 21 days after they walked out in a wage dispute.

More are expected to return by nightfall as additional settlements are reached in plant-by-plant negotiations across the country.

Meanwhile airlines, both in the United States and Europe, were faced with loss of considerable revenue as the shortage of aviation gasoline grows. Most lines have curtailed flight schedules. And more cuts are in prospect unless supplies of gas are replenished.

A major break in the strike front was reached yesterday when 10,000 Sinclair Refining Company workers signed a wage agreement. But a dark spot cropped up in the middlewest.

A U. S. Conciliation Service spokesman said negotiations to end the strike of 7,000 workers at Standard Oil of Indiana's Refinery at Whiting, Ind., broke down last night. A similar situation was reported at the Cities Service Company Refinery in East Chicago where 800 are out.

At issue in the strike by 22 CIO, AFL and independent unions, was an hourly wage increase plus increased night shift differentials. The unions originally demanded a 25-cent hourly boost on the average $2 to $2.10 hourly pay.

The Wage Stabilization Board last week recommended a wage increase of 15 cents per hour, effective May 1, with a little more than 9 cents retroactive to Jan. 1, plus an increase in extra pay for night work to 6 cents per hour from 4 for the evening trick and to 12 cents from 6 for the night shift.

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers International Union and other union leaders recommended acceptance of the WSB formula.

Cities Service Oil Company said 700 men returned to work in five plants in the east yesterday.

The workers are employed in a refinery in Linden, N. J., and bulk plants in Long Island City, Queens, New York city, Newark, N. J., Mount Vernon, N. Y. and Braintree, Mass.

Main Drawbacks Listed by Chamber In City's Growth

Lack of vacant buildings, limited level land with proper water and sewage facilities, were called the main drawbacks in attracking new industries to Kingston.

This was the consensus of those attending an open meeting of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, Monday night, in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

"The time has come," said President Lawrence J. MacAvery, "when we should organize some kind of a locally financed industrial development corporation which would buy land for resale at cost or perhaps at a loss, to attract desirable industrial concerns."

Executive Secretary in passing comment said any expansion program of the sort should be available as well to local industries in need of additional production space.

No Opposition

MacAvery's comments were heartily endorsed by those in attendance, who were advised that statements to the effect that some interests oppose the influx of new industry are entirely false.

The president of the chamber said immediate steps would be taken to give careful consideration to the best type of development group to organize.

The chamber's headquarters in the Governor Clinton was cited as a busy information bureau.

During the past 12 months 6,000 inquiries of various sorts have been answered.

Records and details of 15 committees have been handled for Kingston's 300th anniversary.

Assistance was given the Ulster County Agricultural Society in handling the county fair at Forsyth Park.

Helped Bowling Tourney

Cooperation was given the Kingston Bowling Association State Tournament Committee.

The chamber made a success of the recent Ulster County Talent Quest in connection with the Ted Mack Amateur radio program.

The extra work adds materially to the regular program of the Chamber of Commerce, but, MacAvery said, "the results of activities for the benefit of Kingston more than justify the effort."

To Use Navy Measures

Washington, May 20 (AP) — The air force will start using navy measurements—knots and nautical miles, instead of miles per hour and statute miles—on July 1, Defense Department, in making the announcement today said the change had been approved by the Air Coordinating Committee, established by President Truman in 1946, in an effort to eliminate confusion in aircraft traffic control. A nautical mile equals one minute of arc on a great circle course around the earth. It measures 6,080 feet, as compared with 5,280 in the statute, or land, mile. The knot, is a measure of speed, one knot equaling one nautical mile per hour.

Cancer Crusade Ahead of 1951 Fund Campaign

The Ulster County Cancer Crusade is ahead of its 1951 drive, it was announced today by Herman G. Rafalowsky, general chairman.

He attributed the response to a growing public awareness of the deadly menace of cancer and popular appreciation of the strides made in the discovery of a cure and treatment.

Rafalowsky said that contributions had come from all over the county from children to corporations. He pointed out that cancer respected neither wealth nor poverty, young or old, man, woman, or child, color or creed, and that donations had cut across all of these lines.

He noted, however, that a sizeable segment of the population has not yet responded to the appeal, possibly, he explained, because they have not yet been contacted. He urged all to get into the fight without waiting to be called on. All types of contributions are welcome, he said, small, medium and large. Send your donation to Cancer, Box 155, Kingston, N. Y.

Main Drawbacks Listed by Chamber In City's Growth

Lack of vacant buildings, limited level land with proper water and sewage facilities, were called the main drawbacks in attracking new industries to Kingston.

This was the consensus of those attending an open meeting of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, Monday night, in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

"The time has come," said President Lawrence J. MacAvery, "when we should organize some kind of a locally financed industrial development corporation which would buy land for resale at cost or perhaps at a loss, to attract desirable industrial concerns."

Executive Secretary in passing comment said any expansion program of the sort should be available as well to local industries in need of additional production space.

No Opposition

MacAvery's comments were heartily endorsed by those in attendance, who were advised that statements to the effect that some interests oppose the influx of new industry are entirely false.

The president of the chamber said immediate steps would be taken to give careful consideration to the best type of development group to organize.

The chamber's headquarters in the Governor Clinton was cited as a busy information bureau.

During the past 12 months 6,000 inquiries of various sorts have been answered.

Records and details of 15 committees have been handled for Kingston's 300th anniversary.

Assistance was given the Ulster County Agricultural Society in handling the county fair at Forsyth Park.

Helped Bowling Tourney

Cooperation was given the Kingston Bowling Association State Tournament Committee.

The chamber made a success of the recent Ulster County Talent Quest in connection with the Ted Mack Amateur radio program.

The extra work adds materially to the regular program of the Chamber of Commerce, but, MacAvery said, "the results of activities for the benefit of Kingston more than justify the effort."

To Use Navy Measures

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The air force will start using navy measurements—knots and nautical miles, instead of miles per hour and statute miles—on July 1, Defense Department, in making the announcement today said the change had been approved by the Air Coordinating Committee, established by President Truman in 1946, in an effort to eliminate confusion in aircraft traffic control. A nautical mile equals one minute of arc on a great circle course around the earth. It measures 6,080 feet, as compared with 5,280 in the statute, or land, mile. The knot, is a measure of speed, one knot equaling one nautical mile per hour.

No personal injuries were reported and no arrests were made.

Early Evening Hours Bring Traffic Danger

Early evening hours are the most dangerous in traffic for children 5 to 14 years of age, according to Edward J. Rieger, director of the traffic engineering and safety departments of the Automobile Club of New York.

"Between 5 p. m. and 8 p. m. is the period when parents should give greater supervision and attention to the safety of their children," Rieger warned. "This is the most dangerous time of day for child pedestrians, weekend or weekday."

"A combination of rush homebound traffic, fatigue on the part of drivers, dusk with resultant inability of many drivers to see small children, and the practice of children running and playing in the street combine to produce traffic injuries and deaths."

"Parents are urged to give increased attention to safety of children both when sending them on after-school errands and during after-supper play hours."

Four Jets Downed

Seoul, Korea, May 20 (AP)— U. S. Sabre jet pilots reported they shot down four Communist jets over northwest Korea today. The air battle near the Manchurian border produced America's 16th jet ace.

A U. S. Fifth Air Force announcement said the new kills raised total destruction of Russian-built MIGs, in the Korean war to 302.

Col. Harrison R. Thyng of Pittsfield, N. H. commander of the Fourth Fighter-Intercepter Wing, got his jet ace rating in the fight near the Yalu river.

Allied air losses, if any, are announced weekly.

Eight Japan-based B-29s Monday night bombed the Sunchon rail bypass bridge across the Taedong river northeast of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

Two other superforts hit storage areas of Hamhung on the east coast and a lone B-29 bombed front line Red troop positions.

On the 155-mile ground front, action was limited to patrol clashes.

Truman told the ADA that Wiley had been jeered and sneed at by his Republican colleagues for saying there were some foreign policy actions of which every American could be proud.

"If the President had used half-common sense or his ghost writers had checked the Congressional Record, they would have found I did not take part," Welker declared.

Welker said he had written Truman demanding a retraction and was going to answer "whenever the President of the United States stoops so low as to use my name in utter falsehood."

Dingee Bungalow Damaged by Fire

The fire which damaged the George Dingee camp near the Esopus Creek off the Neighborhood road Monday afternoon has been traced to a short circuit in an electrical box on the main line into the bungalow, Fire Chief Joseph Dyer of Ulster Hose revealed today.

Damage to the summer camp has been tentatively estimated at $5,000, Chief Dyer reported.

The fire, which was discovered at 1:06 p. m. Monday, destroyed the roof over the kitchen and caused other damage to the kitchen, it was reported.

Quick action by the volunteer firemen and by Mrs. W. A. Van Valkenburgh and Mrs. Frank Shields, who played a garden hose on the blaze until firemen arrived, was credited by the summer camp owner with saving the summer camp from destruction.

Divorce Is Granted

Los Angeles, May 20 (AP)—The celebrated Hollywood triangle of Franchot Tone, Barbara Payton and Tom Neal has been reduced to a twosome. Tone won a divorce yesterday from the blond Miss Payton on testimony that she told him, "I want to be free to move where and when I want to." After the trial her attorney said she's planning to do some moving —in the direction of Europe, and accompanied by Neal.

Morals Case Goes Over One Week

Special City Judge Harry Gold today adjourned for one week the case of Daniel J. Fitzgerald, 18, 81 Chambers street, and Robert Greenberg, 18, of 66 West Chester street, who were booked Monday on a morals charge.

The two were arrested by local police following a chase from the rear of the city library to a point along the railroad tracks back of the city hall.

Attorney Frank Martocci appeared for Greenberg and Abram F. Molyneaux for Fitzgerald.

Henry Thomas, of 20 Ann street, paid a fine of $25 on the charge that he drove his car while his operator's license was suspended, and a fine of $25 was suspended on the charge that he drove while his registration was suspended. He was arrested Saturday after his car ran into a pole at Broadway and Mill street.

Police Will Buy Two Patrol Cars

The Board of Police Commissioners voted yesterday to buy two new Ford patrol cars.

The board had voted previously to buy two new motorcycles, which will arrive in the city within the next few days.

Two new patrol cars were bought last year. It has been a department policy to make replacements on that basis. The five patrol cars and two motorcycles are kept in constant service.

Police Chief Raymond Van-Buren's monthly report showed eight persons injured in seven local traffic mishaps in April. Of these, three involved pedestrians, three, other motor vehicles and one vehicle ran off a roadway.

The report showed 90 arrests for the month, and of these 26 were for violations of the city traffic code, 25 for public intoxication, 17 for disorderly conduct, three for third degree assault, two for driving while intoxicated, 13 for violations of the vehicle and traffic laws and one for second degree grand larceny.

Early Evening Hours Bring Traffic Danger

Early evening hours are the most dangerous in traffic for children 5 to 14 years of age, according to Edward J. Rieger, director of the traffic engineering and safety departments of the Automobile Club of New York.

"Between 5 p. m. and 8 p. m. is the period when parents should give greater supervision and attention to the safety of their children," Rieger warned. "This is the most dangerous time of day for child pedestrians, weekend or weekday."

"A combination of rush homebound traffic, fatigue on the part of drivers, dusk with resultant inability of many drivers to see small children, and the practice of children running and playing in the street combine to produce traffic injuries and deaths."

"Parents are urged to give increased attention to safety of children both when sending them on after-school errands and during after-supper play hours."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 20, 1952

THE 1952 CAMPAIGN

It would be a great disservice to the American people if the coming election should be fought out along the entrenched battle lines of the New Deal-Fair Deal versus the long-established opposition. Because events have largely consigned that struggle to history.

Unfortunately, there are many signs in both camps that the 1952 campaign may still be geared too closely to outmoded loyalties and hostilities. President Truman and some of his cohorts still boast loudly of the Democrats' anti-depression program, though it was initiated nearly 20 years ago. In his messages to Congress and the people, he still discusses new social proposals as if this were 1936.

For their part, a great many Republicans still talk as if the great need of the moment is to halt the New Deal-Fair Deal in its tracks and perhaps restore many of the conditions which prevailed before 1932.

In some circles it is regarded as pretty damaging stuff to call a man a "me-tooer," indicating thereby that he is too friendly to Democratic notions of social progress.

In truth, the New Deal ended for all practical purposes in 1938, when sharp Republican gains in Congress put a checkrein on President Roosevelt, and Hitler's moves abroad shifted the emphasis to the world scene.

As for the Fair Deal, Mr. Truman's postwar social package, it has been mainly a paper program. A new housing law—sponsored by Senator Taft and approved by many Republicans—plus modifications of the social security and minimum wage laws just about represents the sum of Fair Deal achievement.

But more important than the fact that there have been no great recent advances which could give life to the old struggle, the problems of the American people today are no longer in that same frame of reference. In 1952 the big fact is the contest between the free world and Russian communism, and all that it means in terms of foreign aid, rearmament, domestic controls, inflation and the like.

In his new book, "The Future of American Politics," Samuel Lubell stresses this shift to new problems and points out the cost to Americans that lies in failure to recognize and deal with these difficulties.

During most of 1951, he recalls, a battle raged in Congress between members who felt five or six billion dollars could be pared from the military budget, and those who supported Mr. Truman's contention that the budget already had been cut to the bone.

"While this controversy was going on," writes Lubell, "something like $12 billion were being added to the government's expenses by the failure to act in time to halt inflation. Rising prices added that much more to the cost of defense."

Looked at this way, the old New Deal-anti-New Deal fight on economy versus social gains appears silly. Where is the economy in slashing $6 billion from defense while inflation adds $12 billion? And what social gains could be offered that could possibly offset the hurt to the citizen's pocketbook represented by that boost in costs?

Sooner or later the answers to the real problems of 1952 must be had. And the party which will insure itself of steady tenure in the White House in this next phase of American history is the one with the courage and imagination to tackle these issues.

Trouble has a fairly constant ingredient. Only too often it starts out merely being heedless fun.

RED CROSS BIRTHDAY

This year is the 71st anniversary of the founding of the American Red Cross. It came into being on May 21, 1881, under the leadership of Clara Barton who had devoted her life to humanitarian works. Since its founding several generations of Americans have had cause to bless the Red Cross for its work among the poor, the sick, the victims of tragedies and disasters.

The Red Cross performs a needed function in American life. It extends the neighborly helping hand to those who are the victims of disaster or misfortune. Through voluntary contributions from all citizens it helps all who need it. The anniversary of 71 years of service by the Red Cross is an anniversary for all Americans who make up this great humanitarian organization.

SCHOOLS AND CRIMES

Perhaps a case can be made if the reports of the FBI and the Office of Education of the Federal Security Agency are combined. For while one speaks of the increase of crime among our younger population, the other deals with the shortages of school houses and teachers.

The FBI report shows that:

"During 1951, age 23 predominated in the frequency of male arrests followed by ages 21, 22, 18 and 24 in that order. The largest number of female arrests also occurred in age group 23, followed by ages 24, 22, 25, and 26 in that order."

The Office of Education reports:

"Among the most insistent of these problems is the appalling lack of adequate classroom facilities to house our rapidly increasing school population. . . ."

Extravagant conclusions may be drawn from both reports, but the fact remains that increase in crime is reported each year and the criminals seem to grow younger. As compulsory education is prevalent, it must be assumed that the criminals have been to school and are not the unruly and unlettered children of immigrants.

It would seem that the fact that the average teacher's salary in the United States was $2,980 (1950-1951) has something to do with the weaknes of the educational structure of this country.

A disproportion of young people train for high school teaching, so that while there is a surplus in that field, there is a shortage of elementary schoolteachers. Bluntly, it can be said that it does not pay to be a teacher in a primary or elementary school. A young woman must be idealistic indeed to work at the salary paid and the prospects afforded. The educational report says:

"Probably the difficulty lies in the fact that, originally, salary levels were set at the time when, for most young women and some men of a scholastic bent, there were offered few opportunities other than teaching. Today, that is certainly not true. There are a large number of fields which young women with a college education (to concentrate on only one sex) can enter and make a genuine career. Those who enter business with an A.B. and reasonable ability can hope to climb the ladder into some of the better-paying executive or specialist jobs. . . .

"Meanwhile, teachers' salaries have remained tied to their original base. Such necessary increases as from time to time were granted had, for the most part, to be painfully extracted from the local tax funds. Only rarely have the adjustments been sufficient to meet even the rise in current living costs; on a competitive basis with other opportunities offered to young people they have become notoriously inadequate."

It is impossible to keep the thought of inadequate education and character-building separate from the low economic and even social status of the teacher. Our children are entrusted to worried and, in some instances, frightened women whose personal problems are compelling even while they are teaching.

I do not want to press this point too far; yet it would seem to be sound to suggest that while we are scattering Point IV money all over the world, we might devote some to discover precisely what is being done to our children in our schools. What are they really learning? What is being done about character-building in the schools? How is it being done? Are the teachers adequate to the task of turning out good citizens? Are they being paid adequately to maintain the dignity of their persons and to be so at peace with themselves as to hold the respect of their pupils?

Education cannot be separated from character-building any more than nourishment can be separated from the bone structure of a human being. It is all too easy to blame everything unpleasant in our society on politics and politicians. Perhaps the basic error lies in functional education, which rejects precept and guidance grounded in religion and morals.

As long as J. Edgar Hoover continues to report crime increases with emphasis on the early twenties, it is sound to relate his figures to a school system which in many places holds on to our boys and girls until they are 18 years old. His figures are of those who are caught and arrested; they do no deal with moral infractions which do not disclose themselves but nonetheless leave a mark of weakened character.

That Body of Yours

FIRST AID IN PANIC STATES

Most of us think that, if confronted by an armed burglar, we would be quite ready to give up any money or valuables rather than risk being killed. However, none of us really knows how we would behave in what could be called an acute panic state.

In The American Journal of Psychotherapy, Dr. J. A. M. Meerlo reports his experiences during the war in the Netherlands and in Britain. He states that even in persons well prepared for disaster, extreme danger tends to evoke all kinds of mental defense reactions. Catastrophies like earthquakes, railway accidents or direct bomb hits may bring on a condition much like returning to our childhood.

"Two types of panic behavior are generally observed," Dr. Meerlo writes. "The first is a state of mental paralysis in which the patient is apathetic, stunned, so that he shows no feeling whatever, cannot talk and cannot move, and appears to be dead except for the fright that shows in his eyes. He does not consciously listen though his body contracts with every noise. This stunned condition of mind and body may communicate fear to others."

The second type of panic reaction takes the form of temper tantrums, like those of an angry child. "A soldier with this form of panic may attack his fellow soldiers or shoot at his own troops. A woman may begin to cry, shout, or walk aimlessly about, wringing her hands." Most variations of such fear reactions are painful tightening of muscles and nerves, and frequent urination.

Explaining these reactions to the patient and why they occur in him has a quieting effect on him.

Talking harshly to this type of patient and calling him cowardly may increase his panic. Persons obsessed by fear may react to quieting drugs in an unexpected way. In cases in which treatment and reassurance is needed, aspirin or bromides will suffice in most cases.

Oral (mouth) satisfaction in the form of hot coffee, soup, or cigarettes may be more effective than a narcotic or powerful pain killing drug.

Dr. Meerlo states further that mental first aid, which straightens out things in the patient's mind, may prevent the development of deeper neurotic or nervous involvement.

Too Far Out of Balance

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — The personal and political expenses of Democratic National Chairman Frank McKinney are causing a lot of backstage comment in top Democratic circles this week. They've also caused the resignation of the Democratic budget officer, William S. Bradley.

Bradley resigned with a caustic confidential letter calling attention to McKinney's personal expenses, which include $750 to the Marian Service Co. of Miami, reportedly for handling his yacht, and $2,175 paid to a photographer, P. H. Ho of Indianapolis, McKinney's home town, for "pictures of chairman."

The most amazing of McKinney's political expenses is $40,000 which was dumped into Cook county, Ill., to try to cut down the vote for Sen. Estes Kefauver during the recent Illinois primary. Use of National Committee funds against any Democratic candidate in a primary election is strictly against all the political rules, and, as a result, non-partisan members of the Democratic National Committee are boiling mad.

All this came to the surface when Democratic Budget Officer Bradley submitted his resignation, with a stinging private letter blasting the manner in which McKinney was conducting Democratic finances.

Itemized Expense Account

Bradley also sent a letter to two top Democrats, Jonathan Daniels of Raleigh, N. C., and Molly O'Riordan of Boston, itemizing the chairman's extravagances. These included personal expense checks paid to McKinney for $3,000 each on Jan. 1, Feb. 2, and March 24, plus $1,720.76 on March 25, the latter credited as "Expense Acct. — Florida." This was in addition to the $750 to the Marian Service Co. of Miami, reportedly for handling the McKinney Yacht.

McKinney's total for expenses up to March 25 was listed as $10,578.93. This, however, did not include his bills at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington. In fairness to McKinney, it should be noted that he has not received a salary from the committee.

Bradley's letter was received by members of the Democratic executive committee meeting in Chicago last week and immediately became the talk of the meeting. Brought to the attention of Chairman McKinney, he gave the following explanation of the expense account.

First he stated that the $40,000 sent to Cook county was not for the purpose of cutting down the Kefauver vote in the Illinois primary, but was the Cook county half of its Jackson Day dinner, the proceeds of which are customarily shared by local and national committees.

He also stated that his $10,578.93 personal expense account for three months covered trips totaling 23,000 miles and attendance at nine Jackson-Jefferson Day dinners.

On his yachting trip to Florida, McKinney said he had entertained various big contributors on the yacht and managed to raise $32,000 for the Democratic party. He said the Florida trip had cost him a total of $4,800, but he had charged the Democratic committee $1,720, which he figured was the cost of seven receptions for big contributors.

Regarding the $2,175 paid for photographs, McKinney said there had been a big demand for photos of himself, but since he had used some of them personally, he later made a $1,000 contribution to the committee.

He also pointed out that he was running the committee for 21 per cent less than year than last, even though it was a campaign year; and that Bradley, who had made the charges against him, was sore because he had been let out.

The executive committee ended by giving McKinney a rising vote of confidence.

Bradley, who has been budget and controls officer under three previous Democratic chairmen, also had some critical things to say about Jackson-Jefferson Day dinners. This column has been able to obtain a copy of his confidential letter, dated May 13, to Chairman McKinney. Salient portions follow:

Bradley's Letter

"Since January 1, and as of April 30, 1952, your office has exceeded its budget by the amount of $18,912.90. This has been occasioned by your employment of more 'assistants to the chairman' than were provided for in the budget, and at a higher scale of salaries, and the extraordinary liberality of the expense allowances granted them," Bradley told McKinney.

"I do not know the source of the information on which you based your public statement that 'the 1952 dinner was the most successful ever held'," the budget officer continued, "but it was completely erroneous. The records of the comptroller's office could have provided the correct figures, had they been consulted. The 1950 dinner, held in the armory, under comparable cost conditions, produced the following results: Total receipts—$581,543.00. Total costs—$120,872.66. Net receipts—$460,670.34.

"A notable example of the need for the establishment of controls is the recently held Washington Jefferson-Jackson dinner. In spite of the fact that the total receipts for the dinner ($422.046.00 — including pledges) were far below expectation, the committee could have saved approximately $50,000.00 by the application of reasonable controls over spending and waste.

"For example, we paid for 5390 dinners, yet we received contributions, including pledges, covering only 4220 dinners—in other words, we fed 1170 free-loaders, at committee expense. Perhaps 200 of these tickets were given to the staff and official guests—but what happened to the other 970? I do not think your records will disclose the names of the persons who received these free tickets—and yet, each ticket had a potential value of $100.00. The proper control of such an operation is exceedingly simple—immensely important. Some two months before the dinner, I made this suggestion to Judge Howard again during your absence. I quote his reply: 'Since Wash Williams is dinner chairman, suppose we let him run it.'

"Of the total receipts, only $360,221.00 was in cash. Out of this, we will pay approximately $139,000.00 in dinner and promotion costs, leaving only about $221,000.00 in available cash, for the present use of the committee. A few practical economies, applied in contracting the dinner costs, would have saved thousands, but unfortunately, no adequate controls were maintained. As a result, on the basis of 5,390 dinners which we paid for, the cost was $25.10 per plate—while on the more accurate basis of the 4,220 contributors, the cost was $32.06 each. This estimate is predicated on full collection of all pledges. If we fail in this, the per-plate cost will be considerably higher.

"Of the $61,000.00 in pledges, accepted in lieu of cash, approximately $18,000.00 came from persons who still owe us for their 1951 dinner pledges—some of whom owe for years even previous to that. All of these matters were called to Judge Howard's attention in ample time to have taken effective measures, had you so desired."

Bradley also made some pointed references to committee money used against Kefauver in Chicago.

"Since January 1, 1952, contributions to other committees, made on your authority, have exceeded the budget by $50,000.00," he said "This includes a contribution of $40.000.00 to the Cook county (Illinois) central committee, which was not contemplated in the budget—and $4,000.000 to the congressional campaign committee, which was not in their regular budget, and was, apparently, for some special purpose.

"Deservedly or not," Bradley concluded, "I have established a good reputation, which I value, as a budget officer, both with the government, and with the Democratic national committee, under its three preceding chairmen—and I would like to keep the record straight on this subject."

Today in Europe

Eisenhower Will Not Take Part in Campaign Fireworks, Is Report

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Paris, May 20—Americans who expect General Eisenhower to come back home to engage in a rough-and-tumble campaign for the Republican nomination are in for a surprise. The general has not the slightest intention of indulging in personalities or of submitting himself to a cross-examination on the thousand and one aspects of America's problems of today.

The reason is a simple one—the general regards fundamental principles and the exposition of his philosophy as more important than campaign crossfire.

It is well to bear in mind one thing about Dwight Eisenhower. He is really not seeking the presidency and will not be disappointed if he isn't nominated. He has made himself available and, if the American people want him for leadership in the present-day crisis in the world, he will devote himself earnestly to their service in the presidency.

Basically, the Eisenhower approach is like a breath of fresh air. He has no rancor toward anybody. He doesn't feel committed to the Truman-Acheson policies or to anything which has happened in the past if fundamental principle and a dispassionate study of the facts and circumstances indicates that a substantial change in a past policy is desirable.

General Eisenhower is not wrapped up in Europe to the exclusion of other parts of the world. He regards Korea as just as much a part of the global war—the "cold war"—as any of the currents generated in Europe by Soviet Russia. When the general tours the various capitals of Europe, as he is now doing, he does not hesitate to express an American viewpoint and to listen carefully to what the other governments say in the informal discussions that develop during his visits.

What General Eisenhower wants more than anything else is fairness and balance in the operation of government. He will wish to choose men of integrity around him if he should be selected for the presidency—men who will help clean house and not just become part of another kind of parasitic bureaucracy.

The expressions "left" and "right" leave General Eisenhower cold. He is vehemently opposed to extremists on either side. He thinks that it is more important to determine what is right rather than who is right.

These indexes to the Eisenhower attitude are not widely known as yet, but they will be before long. The general is by no means a reticent person. He talks easily and forthrightly. His addresses on the two major occasions when he has speaking engagements in the United States during June will not be political because the general prefers to discuss current questions in terms of principle. He is convinced that, in the wild scramble for position between factions, the sources of all decent behavior—fundamental principle and morality—are often overlooked. Nor is the general of the opinion that the solution for every problem lies in passing another law.

As the time for the national conventions approaches, it is amazing to contrast what is known here to be the true Eisenhower position on the coming battle for the nomination at Chicago and what is being said in the United States. If, for instance, Eisenhower didn't intend to fight the Democratic record and Democratic administration, he never would have announced that he was a Republican willing to have his name voted for in the Republican primaries. He could have had the Democratic party nomination on a platter.

Then there are those who say the Eisenhower view on current issues is too abstract. The answer to this is that he made public while at Columbia University and will make clear in the addresses he plans to make before the convention is held just what his basic thinking is. But he considers primarily that a man's life record and what he has said heretofore are ample evidence of his method of dealing with public questions as they arise.

General Eisenhower is not likely to be drawn into a battle of words with other candidates, nor will he do anything to fan the flames of bitterness between Republicans. The general is in good health and in good spirits and is looking forward to his return on June 1 to the United States after this most difficult and delicate assignment in Europe.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

A few weeks ago, James J. McElroy, secretary and treasurer of the New York Association of Catholic Trade Unionists, broadcast over Station WFUV-FM, operated by Fordham University, the following remarks:

"I take great exception to Mr. Pegler's opinion of Mr. Philip Murray. Mr. Murray has performed a great service to our nation in kicking out the commies in the CIO."

The truth here is that Murray did not kick out Harry Bridges because Bridges was a Communist but, on the contrary, went into hysterics defending Bridges when he was notorious among decent patriots for his attachment to international communism. Murray kicked Bridges out because Bridges exercised his constitutional right to support a lawfully nominated candidate for President of the United States. That candidate was Henry Bubblehead Wallace, who had received Murray's zealous support only eight years before, Wallace was extremely friendly to Moscow in that earlier campaign as Murray well knew, and he was no more friendly to the Kremlin in 1948. He was no worse rogue or fool in 1948 than he had been in 1940 when Murray helped inflict him on the American people as vice president in time of war. The reason why Murray kicked Bridges out in 1948 was that Murray and the CIO were trying to elect Truman and were using all the pressure they could on whomsoever they could coerce. This expulsion of Bridges was the most arrogant and wanton act of political tyranny in the entire evil career of this sanctimonious old faker, Philip Murray, and the CIO.

On the point of Mr. McElroy's claim that Murray performed a public service in kicking out the Communists I will now bust him in the teeth with facts. The truth is that Murray cooperated closely with many notorious rodents of the Muscovite conspiracy throughout the treasonous campaigns which set at naught federal and many state constitutions, unseated lawful government and trampled the rights of millions of citizens when the CIO was being organized. He got along without the slightest public indication of discomfort with Leon Pressman, as general counsel of the CIO, when Pressman was publicly understood to be a Communist, as he later confessed he was. And Murray wrote extravagant tracts in defense of Bridges and John Santo, another Communist CIO organizer, who also had been ordered deported.

This is what Murray wrote in a pamphlet circulated by Bridges' "victory committee" when he was under a deportation order in 1945:

"The opponents of Harry Bridges are the industrialists who seek to exile him and to destroy the union which he leads because he is guilty of the crime of organizing the unorganized. I do not believe that this relentless hunt of a human being, carried on over a period of ten years, embracing the employment of a vast network of anti-labor stool pigeons and riffraff, shamelessly lending themselves to perversion of the truth and expressing the hatred of labor unions by certain groups of industrialists, comports with the traditions of American fair play and justice. The CIO will continue its aggressive campaign in the defense of Mr. Bridges' interests and the interests of labor. We will not permit

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 20, 1952

THE 1952 CAMPAIGN

It would be a great disservice to the American people if the coming election should be fought out along the entrenched battle lines of the New Deal-Fair Deal versus the long-established opposition. Because events have largely consigned that struggle to history.

Unfortunately, there are many signs in both camps that the 1952 campaign may still be geared too closely to outmoded loyalties and hostilities. President Truman and some of his cohorts still boast loudly of the Democrats' anti-depression program, though it was initiated nearly 20 years ago. In his messages to Congress and the people, he still discusses new social proposals as if this were 1936.

For their part, a great many Republicans still talk as if the great need of the moment is to halt the New Deal-Fair Deal in its tracks and perhaps restore many of the conditions which prevailed before 1932.

In some circles it is regarded as pretty damaging stuff to call a man a "me-tooer," indicating thereby that he is too friendly to Democratic notions of social progress.

In truth, the New Deal ended for all practical purposes in 1938, when sharp Republican gains in Congress put a checkrein on President Roosevelt, and Hitler's moves abroad shifted the emphasis to the world scene.

As for the Fair Deal, Mr. Truman's postwar social package, it has been mainly a paper program. A new housing law—sponsored by Senator Taft and approved by many Republicans—plus modifications of the social security and minimum wage laws just about represents the sum of Fair Deal achievement.

But more important than the fact that there have been no great recent advances which could give life to the old struggle, the problems of the American people today are no longer in that same frame of reference. In 1952 the big fact is the contest between the free world and Russian communism, and all that it means in terms of foreign aid, rearmament, domestic controls, inflation and the like.

In his new book, "The Future of American Politics," Samuel Lubell stresses this shift to new problems and points out the cost to Americans that lies in failure to recognize and deal with these difficulties.

During most of 1951, he recalls, a battle raged in Congress between members who felt five or six billion dollars could be pared from the military budget, and those who supported Mr. Truman's contention that the budget already had been cut to the bone.

"While this controversy was going on," writes Lubell, "something like $12 billion were being added to the government's expenses by the failure to act in time to halt inflation. Rising prices added that much more to the cost of defense."

Looked at this way, the old New Deal-anti-New Deal fight on economy versus social gains appears silly. Where is the economy in slashing $6 billion from defense while inflation adds $12 billion? And what social gains could be offered that could possibly offset the hurt to the citizen's pocketbook represented by that boost in costs?

Sooner or later the answers to the real problems of 1952 must be had. And the party which will insure itself of steady tenure in the White House in this next phase of American history is the one with the courage and imagination to tackle these issues.

Trouble has a fairly constant ingredient. Only too often it starts out merely being heedless fun.

RED CROSS BIRTHDAY

This year is the 71st anniversary of the founding of the American Red Cross. It came into being on May 21, 1881, under the leadership of Clara Barton who had devoted her life to humanitarian works. Since its founding several generations of Americans have had cause to bless the Red Cross for its work among the poor, the sick, the victims of tragedies and disasters.

The Red Cross performs a needed function in American life. It extends the neighborly helping hand to those who are the victims of disaster or misfortune. Through voluntary contributions from all citizens it helps all who need it. The anniversary of 71 years of service by the Red Cross is an anniversary for all Americans who make up this great humanitarian organization.

SCHOOLS AND CRIMES

Perhaps a case can be made if the reports of the FBI and the Office of Education of the Federal Security Agency are combined. For while one speaks of the increase of crime among our younger population, the other deals with the shortages of school houses and teachers.

The FBI report shows that:

"During 1951, age 23 predominated in the frequency of male arrests followed by ages 21, 22, 18 and 24 in that order. The largest number of female arrests also occurred in age group 23, followed by ages 24, 22, 25, and 26 in that order."

The Office of Education reports:

"Among the most insistent of these problems is the appalling lack of adequate classroom facilities to house our rapidly increasing school population. . . ."

Extravagant conclusions may be drawn from both reports, but the fact remains that increase in crime is reported each year and the criminals seem to grow younger. As compulsory education is prevalent, it must be assumed that the criminals have been to school and are not the unruly and unlettered children of immigrants.

It would seem that the fact that the average teacher's salary in the United States was $2,980 (1950-1951) has something to do with the weaknes of the educational structure of this country.

A disproportion of young people train for high school teaching, so that while there is a surplus in that field, there is a shortage of elementary schoolteachers. Bluntly, it can be said that it does not pay to be a teacher in a primary or elementary school. A young woman must be idealistic indeed to work at the salary paid and the prospects afforded. The educational report says:

"Probably the difficulty lies in the fact that, originally, salary levels were set at the time when, for most young women and some men of a scholastic bent, there were offered few opportunities other than teaching. Today, that is certainly not true. There are a large number of fields which young women with a college education (to concentrate on only one sex) can enter and make a genuine career. Those who enter business with an A.B. and reasonable ability can hope to climb the ladder into some of the better-paying executive or specialist jobs. . . .

"Meanwhile, teachers' salaries have remained tied to their original base. Such necessary increases as from time to time were granted had, for the most part, to be painfully extracted from the local tax funds. Only rarely have the adjustments been sufficient to meet even the rise in current living costs; on a competitive basis with other opportunities offered to young people they have become notoriously inadequate."

It is impossible to keep the thought of inadequate education and character-building separate from the low economic and even social status of the teacher. Our children are entrusted to worried and, in some instances, frightened women whose personal problems are compelling even while they are teaching.

I do not want to press this point too far; yet it would seem to be sound to suggest that while we are scattering Point IV money all over the world, we might devote some to discover precisely what is being done to our children in our schools. What are they really learning? What is being done about character-building in the schools? How is it being done? Are the teachers adequate to the task of turning out good citizens? Are they being paid adequately to maintain the dignity of their persons and to be so at peace with themselves as to hold the respect of their pupils?

Education cannot be separated from character-building any more than nourishment can be separated from the bone structure of a human being. It is all too easy to blame everything unpleasant in our society on politics and politicians. Perhaps the basic error lies in functional education, which rejects precept and guidance grounded in religion and morals.

As long as J. Edgar Hoover continues to report crime increases with emphasis on the early twenties, it is sound to relate his figures to a school system which in many places holds on to our boys and girls until they are 18 years old. His figures are of those who are caught and arrested; they do no deal with moral infractions which do not disclose themselves but nonetheless leave a mark of weakened character.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

FIRST AID IN PANIC STATES

Most of us think that, if confronted by an armed burglar, we would be quite ready to give up any money or valuables rather than risk being killed. However, none of us really knows how we would behave in what could be called an acute panic state.

In The American Journal of Psychotherapy, Dr. J. A. M. Meerlo reports his experiences during the war in the Netherlands and in Britain. He states that even in persons well prepared for disaster, extreme danger tends to evoke all kinds of mental defense reactions. Catastrophies like earthquakes, railway accidents or direct bomb hits may bring on a condition much like returning to our childhood.

"Two types of panic behavior are generally observed," Dr. Meerlo writes. "The first is a state of mental paralysis in which the patient is apathetic, stunned, so that he shows no feeling whatever, cannot talk and cannot move, and appears to be dead except for the fright that shows in his eyes. He does not consciously listen though his body contracts with every noise. This stunned condition of mind and body may communicate fear to others."

The second type of panic reaction takes the form of temper tantrums, like those of an angry child. "A soldier with this form of panic may attack his fellow soldiers or shoot at his own troops. A woman may begin to cry, shout, or walk aimlessly about, wringing her hands." Most variations of such fear reactions are painful tightening of muscles and nerves, and frequent urination.

Explaining these reactions to the patient and why they occur in him has a quieting effect on him.

Talking harshly to this type of patient and calling him cowardly may increase his panic. Persons obsessed by fear may react to quieting drugs in an unexpected way. In cases in which treatment and reassurance is needed, aspirin or bromides will suffice in most cases.

Oral (mouth) satisfaction in the form of hot coffee, soup, or cigarettes may be more effective than a narcotic or powerful pain killing drug.

Dr. Meerlo states further that mental first aid, which straightens out things in the patient's mind, may prevent the development of deeper neurotic or nervous involvement.

Too Far Out of Balance

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — The personal and political expenses of Democratic National Chairman Frank McKinney are causing a lot of backstage comment in top Democratic circles this week. They've also caused the resignation of the Democratic budget officer, William S. Bradley.

Bradley resigned with a caustic confidential letter calling attention to McKinney's personal expenses, which include $750 to the Marian Service Co. of Miami, reportedly for handling his yacht, and $2,175 paid to a photographer, P. H. Ho of Indianapolis, McKinney's home town, for "pictures of chairman."

The most amazing of McKinney's political expenses is $40,000 which was dumped into Cook county, Ill., to try to cut down the vote for Sen. Estes Kefauver during the recent Illinois primary. Use of National Committee funds against any Democratic candidate in a primary election is strictly against all the political rules, and, as a result, non-partisan members of the Democratic National Committee are boiling mad.

All this came to the surface when Democratic Budget Officer Bradley submitted his resignation, with a stinging private letter blasting the manner in which McKinney was conducting Democratic finances.

Itemized Expense Account

Bradley also sent a letter to two top Democrats, Jonathan Daniels of Raleigh, N. C., and Molly O'Riordan of Boston, itemizing the chairman's extravagances. These included personal expense checks paid to McKinney for $3,000 each on Jan. 1, Feb. 2, and March 24, plus $1,720.76 on March 25, the latter credited as "Expense Acct. — Florida." This was in addition to the $750 to the Marian Service Co. of Miami, reportedly for handling the McKinney Yacht.

McKinney's total for expenses up to March 25 was listed as $10,578.93. This, however, did not include his bills at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington. In fairness to McKinney, it should be noted that he has not received a salary from the committee.

Bradley's letter was received by members of the Democratic executive committee meeting in Chicago last week and immediately became the talk of the meeting. Brought to the attention of Chairman McKinney, he gave the following explanation of the expense account.

First he stated that the $40,000 sent to Cook county was not for the purpose of cutting down the Kefauver vote in the Illinois primary, but was the Cook county half of its Jackson Day dinner, the proceeds of which are customarily shared by local and national committees.

He also stated that his $10,578.93 personal expense account for three months covered trips totaling 23,000 miles and attendance at nine Jackson-Jefferson Day dinners.

On his yachting trip to Florida, McKinney said he had entertained various big contributors on the yacht and managed to raise $32,000 for the Democratic party. He said the Florida trip had cost him a total of $4,800, but he had charged the Democratic committee $1,720, which he figured was the cost of seven receptions for big contributors.

Regarding the $2,175 paid for photographs, McKinney said there had been a big demand for photos of himself, but since he had used some of them personally, he later made a $1,000 contribution to the committee.

He also pointed out that he was running the committee for 21 per cent less than year than last, even though it was a campaign year; and that Bradley, who had made the charges against him, was sore because he had been let out.

The executive committee ended by giving McKinney a rising vote of confidence.

Bradley, who has been budget and controls officer under three previous Democratic chairmen, also had some critical things to say about Jackson-Jefferson Day dinners. This column has been able to obtain a copy of his confidential letter, dated May 13, to Chairman McKinney. Salient portions follow:

Bradley's Letter

"Since January 1, and as of April 30, 1952, your office has exceeded its budget by the amount of $18,912.90. This has been occasioned by your employment of more 'assistants to the chairman' than were provided for in the budget, and at a higher scale of salaries, and the extraordinary liberality of the expense allowances granted them," Bradley told McKinney.

"I do not know the source of the information on which you based your public statement that 'the 1952 dinner was the most successful ever held'," the budget officer continued, "but it was completely erroneous. The records of the comptroller's office could have provided the correct figures, had they been consulted. The 1950 dinner, held in the armory, under comparable cost conditions, produced the following results: Total receipts—$581,543.00. Total costs—$120,872.66. Net receipts—$460,670.34.

"A notable example of the need for the establishment of controls is the recently held Washington Jefferson-Jackson dinner. In spite of the fact that the total receipts for the dinner ($422,046.00 — including pledges) were far below expectation, the committee could have saved approximately $50,000.00 by the application of reasonable controls over spending and waste.

"For example, we paid for 5390 dinners, yet we received contributions, including pledges, covering only 4220 dinners—in other words, we fed 1170 free-loaders, at committee expense. Perhaps 200 of these tickets were given to the staff and official guests—but what happened to the other 970? I do not think your records will disclose the names of the persons who received these free tickets—and yet, each ticket had a potential value of $100.00. The proper control of such an operation is exceedingly simple—immensely important. Some two months before the dinner, I made this suggestion to Judge Howard again during your absence. I quote his reply: 'Since Wash Williams is dinner chairman, suppose we let him run it.'

"Of the total receipts, only $360,221.00 was in cash. Out of this, we will pay approximately $139,000.00 in dinner and promotion costs, leaving only about $221,000.00 in available cash, for the present use of the committee. A few practical economies, applied in contracting the dinner costs, would have saved thousands, but unfortunately, no adequate controls were maintained. As a result, on the basis of 5,390 dinners which we paid for, the cost was $25.10 per plate—while on the more accurate basis of the 4,220 contributors, the cost was $32.06 each. This estimate is predicated on full collection of all pledges. If we fail in this, the per-plate cost will be considerably higher.

"Of the $61,000.00 in pledges, accepted in lieu of cash, approximately $18,000.00 came from persons who still owe us for their 1951 dinner pledges—some of whom owe for years even previous to that. All of these matters were called to Judge Howard's attention in ample time to have taken effective measures, had you so desired."

Bradley also made some pointed references to committee money used against Kefauver in Chicago.

"Since January 1, 1952, contributions to other committees, made on your authority, have exceeded the budget by $50,000.00," he said. "This includes a contribution of $40,000.00 to the Cook county (Illinois) central committee, which was not contemplated in the budget—and $4,000,000 to the congressional campaign committee, which was not in their regular budget, and was, apparently, for some special purpose.

"Deservedly or not," Bradley concluded, "I have established a good reputation, which I value, as a budget officer, both with the government, and with the Democratic national committee, under its three preceding chairmen—and I would like to keep the record straight on this subject."

Eisenhower Will Not Take Part in Campaign Fireworks, Is Report

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Paris, May 20—Americans who expect General Eisenhower to come back home to engage in a rough-and-tumble campaign for the Republican nomination are in for a surprise. The general has not the slightest intention of indulging in personalities or of submitting himself to a cross-examination on the thousand and one aspects of America's problems of today.

The reason is a simple one—the general regards fundamental principles and the exposition of his philosophy as more important than campaign crossfire.

It is well to bear in mind one thing about Dwight Eisenhower. He is really not seeking the presidency and will not be disappointed if he isn't nominated. He has made himself available and, if the American people want him for leadership in the present-day crisis in the world, he will devote himself earnestly to their service in the presidency.

Basically, the Eisenhower approach is like a breath of fresh air. He has no rancor toward anybody. He doesn't feel committed to the Truman-Acheson policies or to anything which has happened in the past if fundamental principle and a dispassionate study of the facts and circumstances indicates that a substantial change in a past policy is desirable.

General Eisenhower is not wrapped up in Europe to the exclusion of other parts of the world. He regards Korea as just as much a part of the global war—the "cold war"—as any of the currents generated in Europe by Soviet Russia. When the general tours the various capitals of Europe, as he is now doing, he does not hesitate to express an American viewpoint and to listen carefully to what the other governments say in the informal discussions that develop during his visits.

What General Eisenhower wants more than anything else is fairness and balance in the operation of government. He will wish to choose men of integrity around him if he should be selected for the presidency—men who will help clean house and not just become part of another kind of parasitic bureaucracy.

The expressions "left" and "right" leave General Eisenhower cold. He is vehemently opposed to extremists on either side. He thinks that it is more important to determine what is right rather than who is right.

These indexes to the Eisenhower attitude are not widely known as yet, but they will be before long. The general is by no means a reticent person. He talks easily and forthrightly. His addresses on the two major occasions when he has speaking engagements in the United States during June will not be political because the general prefers to discuss current questions in terms of principle. He is convinced that, in the wild scramble for position between factions, the sources of all decent behavior—fundamental principle and morality—are often overlooked. Nor is the general of the opinion that the solution for every problem lies in passing another law.

As the time for the national conventions approaches, it is amazing to contrast what is known here to be the true Eisenhower position on the coming battle for the nomination at Chicago and what is being said in the United States. If, for instance, Eisenhower didn't intend to fight the Democratic record and Democratic administration, he never would have announced that he was a Republican willing to have his name voted for in the Republican primaries. He could have had the Democratic party nomination on a platter.

Then there are those who say the Eisenhower view on current issues is too abstract. The answer to this is that he made public while at Columbia University and will make clear in the addresses he plans to make before the convention is held just what his basic thinking is. But he considers primarily that a man's life record and what he has said heretofore are ample evidence of his method of dealing with public questions as they arise.

General Eisenhower is not likely to be drawn into a battle of words with other candidates, nor will he do anything to fan the flames of bitterness between Republicans. The general is in good health and in good spirits and is looking forward to his return on June 1 to the United States after this most difficult and delicate assignment in Europe.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

A few weeks ago, James J. McElroy, secretary and treasurer of the New York Association of Catholic Trade Unionists, broadcast over Station WFUV-FM, operated by Fordham University, the following remarks:

"I take great exception to Mr. Pegler's opinion of Mr. Philip Murray. Mr. Murray has performed a great service to our nation in kicking out the commies in the CIO."

The truth here is that Murray did not kick out Harry Bridges because Bridges was a Communist but, on the contrary, went into hysterics defending Bridges when he was notorious among decent patriots for his attachment to international communism. Murray kicked Bridges out because Bridges exercised his constitutional right to support a lawfully nominated candidate for President of the United States. That candidate was Henry Bubblehead Wallace, who had received Murray's zealous support only eight years before, Wallace was extremely friendly to Moscow in that earlier campaign as Murray well knew, and he was no more friendly to the Kremlin in 1948. He was no worse rogue or fool in 1948 than he had been in 1940 when Murray helped inflict him on the American people as vice president in time of war. The reason why Murray kicked Bridges out in 1948 was that Murray and the CIO were trying to elect Truman and were using all the pressure they could on whomsoever they could coerce. This expulsion of Bridges was the most arrogant and wanton act of political tyranny in the entire evil career of this sanctimonious old faker, Philip Murray, and the CIO.

On the point of Mr. McElroy's claim that Murray performed a public service in kicking out the Communists I will now bust him in the teeth with facts. The truth is that Murray cooperated closely with many notorious rodents of the Muscovite conspiracy throughout the treasonous campaigns which set at naught federal and many state constitutions, unseated lawful government and trampled the rights of millions of citizens when the CIO was being organized. He got along without the slightest public indication of discomfort with Leon Pressman, as general counsel of the CIO, when Pressman was publicly understood to be a Communist, as he later confessed he was. And Murray wrote extravagant tracts in defense of Bridges and John Santo, another Communist CIO organizer, who also had been ordered deported.

This is what Murray wrote in a pamphlet circulated by Bridges' "victory committee" when he was under a deportation order in 1945:

"The opponents of Harry Bridges are the industrialists who seek to exile him and to destroy the union which he leads because he is guilty of the crime of organizing the unorganized. I do not believe that this relentless hunt of a human being, carried on over a period of ten years, embracing the employment of a vast network of anti-labor stool pigeons and riffraff, shamelessly lending themselves to perversion of the truth and expressing the hatred of labor unions by certain groups of industrialists, comports with the traditions of American fair play and justice. The CIO will continue its aggressive campaign in the defense of Mr. Bridges' interests and the interests of labor. We will not permit

Complaints Are Followed

Albany, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—Investigators for the Office of Price Stabilization are following up numerous complaints about the sale of seed potatoes for food at above-ceiling prices. "We plan to check every complaint that comes into our office," Harold E. Koreman, enforcement director for the Albany district, said yesterday. Koreman added that his office was checking potato wholesalers and jobbers for any evidence of tie-in sales of potatoes and other produce not under price control.

Bill Survives Test

Washington, May 20 (AP)—An omnibus bill overhauling the nation's immigration laws has survived one of its biggest Senate tests but advocates of a liberalized immigration policy still plan major attacks on it. The Senate yesterday refused 44 to 28 to send the 302-page measure back to the judiciary committee—a move that likely would have shelved it for this session.

Three Big Mains Cleaned by City Water Department

Cleaning of the two 20-inch water mains and an 18-inch main from the equalizer reservoir in the Sawkill area to Kingston was completed last week, the water department announced today.

As a result of this work, the announcement said, city pressures have been increased from five to eight pounds, and "as an illustration of the value of the work done, the 18-inch main and one 20-inch main carried the city last Thursday with one 20-inch main out of service."

Before cleaning no two mains would maintain adequate service during the heavy draft periods in the city.

The department stressed that all of the fine iron rust loosened by cleaning could not be flushed away immediately after cleaning although flushing operations were carried out and are still under way.

Where turbid conditions exist the department will flush hydrants near these locations as follow up flushing may be necessary. The department also suggests flushing of house taps and hot water storage boilers if red water is noticed by the householder.

Sugar Cane Newsprint at $55.92 Announced by Process Inventor

Savannah, Ga., May 20 (AP)—Bagasse newsprint made from sugar cane waste can be produced at a cost of $55.92 per ton, says its inventor, Joaquin de la Roza.

De la Roza has estimates from an independent New York engineering firm which figured the cost at $65.92 a ton, but he expressed confidence that production can be carried on at $10 per ton less than that.

Even the engineers' estimate is far less than the present cost of standard newsprint. A prospective $10 per ton increase recently announced will raise to $126 per ton the price United States publishers will pay for Canadian newsprint.

De la Roza, Cuban-born American citizen, showed the cost estimates to a group which witnessed a regular press run of the Savannah Morning News yesterday in which bagasse newsprint was used for a section of 1,000 copies.

The run was made with the press operating at speeds as high as 30,000 copies per hour. Most of the run, however, was at a lower speed.

Pressmen Enthusiastic

Pressmen of the Morning News were enthusiastic about bagasse. They said it took ink nicely and was much whiter and somewhat less opaque than Canadian newsprint used in the same edition.

De la Roza estimates there is sufficient bagasse available at present to supply several big newsprint mills. In Cuba alone, he said, there is enough to produce four million tons of newsprint annually. Other sources, he added, would produce an additional six million tons a year.

The paper used in the demonstration was produced under de la Roza's supervision at the Herty Foundation Laboratories here. He said his "pre-hydrolysis" process steams out sugars and other undesirable components of sugar cane waste.

Then try to act nonchalant. Try to quiet the quickening of your pulse as you wing along on your first "Prize-Winning Drive."

See what that "let's go" Forerunner Styling does even for visibility, especially down front and over that right front fender. Discover how Mercury engineers have driver-planned this car with future features like the built-out-from-the-dash Interceptor instrument panel.

But most important, find out what Mercury's new live-weight design—teamed with a far-advanced stepped-up V-8—has done for balance and handling. Feel this car's almost unbelievable ground-hugging stability when it rounds a curve . . . how it magically snubs out the bounce and jounce of unkept byways.

A certain young lady who had many suitors also owned a very talkative parrot that often picked up scraps of conversation while she was entertaining her beaux in the evening. Therefore, she was in the habit of putting a blanket over the parrot's cage when she had a caller.

One recent morning she had a phone call from one of her suitors, and she immediately put the blanket over the cage. From the parrot come this remark: My Goodness! What a short day this has been.

Ham-Curing Recipe

Clarksville, Tenn. (AP)—You can't beat the old-fashioned country method for curing those delicious Tennessee hams. So says R. C. Freeman, who has just won the grand championship in Montgomery County's Old Fashioned Ham Show. He does it like this: Wait for a frosty morning to kill your hogs. Let the hams chill overnight. Next morning, salt them down.

Keep them in salt about four weeks. Then wash off the salt and hang the hams in the smokehouse. Smoke them for two or three weeks, off and on, with hickory wood and sawdust. When they are browned just right, take them down, put them in sacks and wrap with paper to keep the meat from drying.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Breslow Purchases Ellenville Pharmacy

Ellenville, May 20 — Nathan Breslow of this village has purchased the Ellenville Pharmacy, situated on the corner of Canal and Market streets, from Irving Blatt, Elias Gingold and Jules Rabin. Mr. Breslow, who has been a resident of Ellenville for the past seven years, during which he was employed as pharmacist at the Rosen Pharmacy, took possession of his new business Monday morning. His wife is Mrs. Harriet Breslow, the popular district nurse. The former owners recently purchased Gray's Drug Store in Ithaca and the store here has been operated by Mr. Blatt for the past several weeks.

Sell Warshaw Store

Ellenville, May 20—Warshaw's Department Store has been sold to Murray J, Leitzes and Harry Levine, New York auctioneers, who will liquidate the stock. The business was founded by the late Max Warshaw about 20 years ago and has since his death been carried on by his wife and son, Jerry Warshaw, dealing mainly in clothing for men, women and children.

To Purchase Patrol Car and Motorcycle

Ellenville, May 19—Considerable business was transacted by the village board at their regular meeting on Monday. It was voted to purchase a new patrol car and a new motorcycle for the police department, to erect four large signs at entrances to the village, to allow Jack Siegel and the Nevele Country Club to tap the villiage water mains for additional water supply to the Siegel Developement and to the Country Club and to purchase a tar kettle for the street department.

They turned down a request of Jehovah's Witnesses to hold a convention in a tent on village property in June. A complaint from Mrs. Margaret Gonder that boys were shooting robins and squirrels in the Park street neighborhood was referred to the police. Edward Shildkret asked that local automobile dealers be allowed to bid on a new fire truck which has been recommended for the Kimble Hose Co.

A request from the Ellenville Hotelmen's Association for permission to erect a welcome sign on village property was considered and in reply it was stated that the village does not own land in the vicinity suitable for such a sign.

Ellenville, May 19—Miss Eileen Laverne Quick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Quick and Robert W. Bearns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bearns of Napanoch, were married Saturday afternoon at the Ellenville Methodist Church at 4 o'clock. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Wesley Garrett, pastor of the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white organdy and lace and a fingertip veil which was held by a band of orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a Bible with a white orchid.

Miss Barbara Hotilik, bridesmaid, wore a gown of pink taffeta and net and carried American Beauty roses. William Winters of Ellenville was best man and Stanley Stancage of Napanoch was usher. John Schmeiser, brother of the bride, sang "Because," with Edward Schmitt at the organ. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Shamrock Hotel for the family and friends. The couple left on a wedding trip to New York and on their return will make their home in Ellenville.

To Purchase Patrol Car and Motorcycle

Ellenville, May 19—Considerable business was transacted by the village board at their regular meeting on Monday. It was voted to purchase a new patrol car and a new motorcycle for the police department, to erect four large signs at entrances to the village, to allow Jack Siegel and the Nevele Country Club to tap the village water mains for additional water supply to the Siegel Developement and to the Country Club and to purchase a tar kettle for the street department.

They turned down a request of Jehovah's Witnesses to hold a convention in a tent on village property in June. A complaint from Mrs. Margaret Gonder that boys were shooting robins and squirrels in the Park street neighborhood was referred to the police. Edward Shildkret asked that local automobile dealers be allowed to bid on a new fire truck which has been recommended for the Kimble Hose Co.

A request from the Ellenville Hotelmen's Association for permission to erect a welcome sign on village property was considered and in reply it was stated that the village does not own land in the vicinity suitable for such a sign.

Newsprint Prices to Jump In June; 'Greed' Is Assailed

Toronto, May 20 (AP)—Some of the Canadian producers of newsprint have decided to put into effect June 15 the $10-a-ton increase in the price of newsprint exported to the United States. Ordinarily, all the producers follow the lead of those first announcing.

Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Ltd., said it had advised its customers the increase would be made as of June 15. It was understood at least one other large Canadian company had given similar information to its American customers.

The increase brings the price delivered to New York to $126 a ton. Prices at other points vary by zones. The Canadian base price remains at $112 a ton plus sales tax.

The last increase, also $10 a ton, was effective last July 1 in both the U. S. and Canada.

The Canadian government said Friday it had agreed to allow the $10 increase because of the boosted exchange value of the Canadian dollar and lowering returns of newsprint sales in New York.

The U. S. has expressed opposition to the increase, saying it is not justified.

Matter of Greed

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Rep. Sikes (D-Fla.) today called the recent $10 increase in Canadian newsprint prices "a matter of greed, not of need," and suggested the government has powers to forestall it.

Canadian newsprint manufacturers, who supply almost 90 per cent of the paper on which U. S. newspapers are printed, announced an increase of $10 a ton effective June 15.

This raises the basic port price of newsprint to $126 a ton.

Sikes told the House that the Office of Price Stabilization told him yesterday it saw "little which can be done within the framework of its own powers" to combat the increase.

Thinks It's True

"I think that is true," he added. "But I also think this is a matter much too serious to dismiss, for newsprint is a commodity which is basic and essential to the free world.

"The boost in price of Canadian newsprint is a matter of greed, not of need. Canadian economy is booming. Canadian industries are making money, much of it from American markets.

"This is a simple grab for more money and higher profits. The price increase would raise the price of newsprint to the highest point in history.

"Obviously it should be forestalled. There are powers by which the administration and the State Department may forestall it. The need is for a vigorous use of the machinery of existing law to add to, not give away, the strength of America."

Peabody Gift Is Given Library

The receipt of a $1,000 legacy and 1,000 books was announced at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Kingston Library on Monday night.

The gift was from the estate of Mrs. Elsa Mason Lord Peabody, and the board directed its secretary to send a letter of grateful acknowledgement to Mrs. Peabody's executrix, Miss Frances Gray.

In addition to the $1,000, the bequest included all the books in Mrs. Peabody's residence. The collection contains about 1,000 volumes, some of them valuable out-of-print editions.

The library board also granted permission for an art exhibit at the library to the classes of Harry Roth. The exhibit will be held the last week of May.

The Ulster County Art Association was granted permission to hang an exhibit during the month of June as its part in the city's 300th anniversary celebration.

The board also voted to close the library for the first three weeks in July for a complete redecoration of the interior walls of the main floor of the building. Paint for the work has been donated by J. Richard Shults, it was announced.

Response was made by three past grand knights, Patrick T. Murphy, E. Frank Flanagan and William B. Byrne.

Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Ltd., said it had advised its customers the increase would be made as of June 15. It was understood at least one other large Canadian company had given similar information to its American customers.

The increase brings the price delivered to New York to $126 a ton. Prices at other points vary by zones. The Canadian base price remains at $112 a ton plus sales tax.

The last increase, also $10 a ton, was effective last July 1 in both the U. S. and Canada.

The Canadian government said Friday it had agreed to allow the $10 increase because of the boosted exchange value of the Canadian dollar and lowering returns of newsprint sales in New York.

The U. S. has expressed opposition to the increase, saying it is not justified.

Matter of Greed

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Rep. Sikes (D-Fla.) today called the recent $10 increase in Canadian newsprint prices "a matter of greed, not of need," and suggested the government has powers to forestall it.

Canadian newsprint manufacturers, who supply almost 90 per cent of the paper on which U. S. newspapers are printed, announced an increase of $10 a ton effective June 15.

This raises the basic port price of newsprint to $126 a ton.

Sikes told the House that the Office of Price Stabilization told him yesterday it saw "little which can be done within the framework of its own powers" to combat the increase.

Thinks It's True

"I think that is true," he added. "But I also think this is a matter much too serious to dismiss, for newsprint is a commodity which is basic and essential to the free world.

"The boost in price of Canadian newsprint is a matter of greed, not of need. Canadian economy is booming. Canadian industries are making money, much of it from American markets.

"This is a simple grab for more money and higher profits. The price increase would raise the price of newsprint to the highest point in history.

"Obviously it should be forestalled. There are powers by which the administration and the State Department may forestall it. The need is for a vigorous use of the machinery of existing law to add to, not give away, the strength of America."

Peabody Gift Is Given Library

The receipt of a $1,000 legacy and 1,000 books was announced at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Kingston Library on Monday night.

The gift was from the estate of Mrs. Elsa Mason Lord Peabody, and the board directed its secretary to send a letter of grateful acknowledgement to Mrs. Peabody's executrix, Miss Frances Gray.

In addition to the $1,000, the bequest included all the books in Mrs. Peabody's residence. The collection contains about 1,000 volumes, some of them valuable out-of-print editions.

The library board also granted permission for an art exhibit at the library to the classes of Harry Roth. The exhibit will be held the last week of May.

The Ulster County Art Association was granted permission to hang an exhibit during the month of June as its part in the city's 300th anniversary celebration.

The board also voted to close the library for the first three weeks in July for a complete redecoration of the interior walls of the main floor of the building. Paint for the work has been donated by J. Richard Shults, it was announced.

a verdict resting on hatred and prejudice to go unchallenged."

The evidence that Bridges is a Communist is no more convincing today than it was when this nasty old mountebank wrote this tract. And be it noted that whereas the deportation was ordered by the courts only after exhaustive proceedings in which Murray and Bridges were given lavish opportunities to smear the government witnesses and took full advantage of these opportunities, Murray's order of expulsion was the arbitrary act of a tyrant done without the slightest pretense of due process.

In 1948, Murray wrote a similar defense of John Santo, another Communist, who had been an organizer or goon for Mike Quill's CIO union of transport workers. Santo finally chucked the contest and went back to Jugoslavia and the pretense that he was not a Communist was conveniently dropped. In Santo's behalf, Murray wrote under the title of "John Santo, American" in the following terms:

"John Santo, national director for organization of the Transport Workers Union has served the working people of the United States by improving their wages, hours and working conditions. There is no decency, no fair play, no justice in these proceedings. The CIO and I, personally, call upon all right-thinking citizens to make their voices heard against the proposed deportation of this man."

Murray's whole career as president of the CIO and before that as a cap-touching flunkey to the arch-tyrant John L. Lewis has been of a piece with his brutal revocation of Bridges' right of political preference. Bridges will arouse no sympathy among patriotic Americans, but, by this precedent, Murray this very day can revoke the right of every one of his rank and file subjects to free political expression and vote. He is on his record plainly a bad man, and the strange attempt by a clamorous minority to put him over on Catholic workers is an insult to the body of law-abiding Catholics.

Asks Less Condescension

Garden City, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said last night that Americans should be less condescending and less critical toward Asian countries which the U. S. needs as friends. Speaking at an Adelphi College dinner, Dewey said Asians "will not love us because we are strong and powerful." He added: "In the face of the gravest menace our liberty has ever faced, we need every friend we can get. We need them whether their skins are black, brown, yellow or white. We need them whether they are Moslems, Buddhists or Confuscians. We need them whether they are republics, monarchies or autarchies."

You Can't Depend On Instinct Alone

By OSWALD JACOBY

When the average player holds a suit headed by A-J-10 his natural instinct is to take at least one finesse. This is not always the soundest procedure, as today's hand shows.

West opened the queen of spades, the king of spades was played from dummy, and East won with the ace. Declarer ruffed the spade return and entered dummy with a club to try a heart finesse. This was a poor idea.

West won with the queen of hearts and shifted to the nine of diamonds. Now declarer was in hot water without a life boat. He had to lose a diamond and another trump no matter how he continued.

A trump finesse might have been a sound idea if dummy had held a second trump. Then, if the first trump finesse lost, South could try a second finesse. As it was, a single finesse gave South practically no advantage and exposed him to a prompt diamond return by West.

The correct play in this situation, which occurs in play fairly often, is to lay down the ace of trumps immediately and to continue with the jack of trumps.

If South had done so after ruffing the second spade with a low trump, his ace of trumps would have caught West's queen, and the rest of the hand would have been very easy.

If South is not lucky enough to drop a singleton honor with his ace of trumps, he has several other chances to make his contract. He continues with the jack of trumps, and may find that East is obliged to win the trick.

Since a diamond return can not be made by East, South will then be quite safe. Even if West wins the second trump trick, declarer is still safe unless West shifts to diamonds.

In that case, of course, South must guess whether to try the diamond finesse or to try for a discard on one of dummy's clubs.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Apparently there is some confusion as to our operation which needs clearing up. As to whether or not we are still in the business of moving and storing of household goods the answer is definitely yes, the entire operation being under my supervision.

The moving is being handled by the Smith Ave. Storage Warehouse Moving Co., under the personal supervision of Mr. Frederick G. Faerber, Jr., who is careful, courteous and competent. His experience in the moving and packing of household goods is considerable having been in this business before and since his term of service in the U. S. Navy in the last war.

We are also continuing our long distance operation being a stockholder in and an agent of United Van Lines, Inc., who did approximately seven million dollars worth of business in 1951. Our close connection with this large national moving company permits us to efficiently service shipments to and from any part of the United States and Canada.

It is a pleasure to announce to our old friends and clients that this arrangement will enable us to give them the same efficient and courteous service that has been rendered in the past. Many thanks to you for your past patronage and please don't forget us in the future.

To those of you who have never used our service if you will give us a trial we know that you will be pleasantly surprised. A telephone call to Kingston 4070 or Saugerties 559 (where we now have a branch office) will be given prompt attention and of course there is no obligation on your part.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Apparently there is some confusion as to our operation which needs clearing up. As to whether or not we are still in the business of moving and storing of household goods the answer is definitely yes, the entire operation being under my supervision.

The moving is being handled by the Smith Ave. Storage Warehouse Moving Co., under the personal supervision of Mr. Frederick G. Faerber, Jr., who is careful, courteous and competent. His experience in the moving and packing of household goods is considerable having been in this business before and since his term of service in the U. S. Navy in the last war.

We are also continuing our long distance operation being a stockholder in and an agent of United Van Lines, Inc., who did approximately seven million dollars worth of business in 1951. Our close connection with this large national moving company permits us to efficiently service shipments to and from any part of the United States and Canada.

It is a pleasure to announce to our old friends and clients that this arrangement will enable us to give them the same efficient and courteous service that has been rendered in the past. Many thanks to you for your past patronage and please don't forget us in the future.

To those of you who have never used our service if you will give us a trial we know that you will be pleasantly surprised. A telephone call to Kingston 4070 or Saugerties 559 (where we now have a branch office) will be given prompt attention and of course there is no obligation on your part.

David Schriner was the winner in group one. These prize winning posters will be on display in the Stone Ridge library on Wednesday and will then be sent on to the county contest.

TEETOTALER AT COCKTAIL PARTY

A distressed wife explains: "My husband is a business man and very often is invited to cocktail parties given by other business firms. He does not drink and, because of this, thinks it is better not to attend these cocktail parties rather than run the risk of being considered a 'wet blanket' by these men. I, on the other hand, do not think he should stay away, as these business contacts are important, and feel that certainly no one will criticize him as long as his attitude is not one of disapproval. Will you please give us your solution to this problem."

It seems to me very important that your husband go, and, as a matter of fact, it isn't at all necessary that he drink. The main thing is not to look disapprovingly at the others. As a suggestion, he might have just a little poured into a glass and hold it. Then when offered more he could say, "I still have some," and he need scarcely touch it!

All Men in White

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother, who is a naval officer, will be married some time this summer. He plans on wearing his white dress uniform. One of the ushers and the best man are also naval officers and they too will wear their uniforms. The problem facing us is the proper attire for the civilian members of the wedding party. Will you help us?

Answer: If possible, they should also wear white suits.

Question About a Hat

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to another state with my husband to a convention. We will be staying in the same hotel where all of the activities will be held. I would like to know if it is necessary to put on a hat to go into the dining room.

Answer: If it is a restaurant where most people come in from the outside, it would be less conspicuous to wear a hat. But even so, it would be entirely proper for you to go without one if you prefer.

What should one serve for a formal dinner, a buffet lunch or supper? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-25, "Menus for Every Occasion," will help you. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Nancy H. Clum Weds Frederick N. Bulken

Miss Nancy Hope Clum, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Clum, New Hampton, became the bride Saturday afternoon of Frederick Norris Bulken, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Bulken, Monticello, in the Denton Presbyterian Church. Dr. William Arrowsmith Crawford of Monticello officiated at the ceremony. A reception was held at the Orange County Golf Club.

The organist was Hobart Carlin who accompanied the bride's father as he sang The Lord's Prayer at the conclusion of the wedding ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white marquisette with fitted bodice of Chantilly lace. A band of plaited marquisette framed the deep oval neckline and formed tiny puffed sleeves. Her bouffant skirt ended in a cathedral train. She wore long mitts of marquisette and her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a bonnet of matching lace, edged with tulle. She carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and baby orchids.

Miss Jeanne Van Etten of Lake Katrine was her cousin's maid of honor, while Miss Van Etten's twin sister, Joanne, was bridesmaid. Miss Peggy Van Etten of Monticello, also a cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The Misses Jeanne and Joanne Van Etten wore gowns fashioned like that of the bride, in white marquisette and Chantilly lace, and carried old fashioned bouquets of sweet peas and pansies. Their headdresses were wreaths of ivy.

James D. Bulken of Monticello was his brother's best man. Robert D. Clum of Monroe, the bride's brother, and Philip H. Bulken, Monticello, were ushers.

The bride's father was formerly a faculty member of the Kingston High School, soloist in the Albany Avenue Baptist Church and sang with the Mendelssohn Club.

Mrs. Bulken is a graduate of Suffern High School and of Keuka College, Keuka Park.

Mr. Bulken, a graduate of Monticello High School is an alumnus of Colgate University, Hamilton, where he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. The couple will live at 6 Pleasant street, Sidney, where the bridegroom is employed as an engineer by the Scintilla Magneto Division of the Bendix Aviation Corporation.

Agudas Achim Men Hear Sullivan at Sunday Breakfast

At a breakfast Sunday morning in the socal hall of the synagogue on West Union street, the Men's Society of Congregation Agudas Achim enjoyed a talk by City Historian Joseph F. Sullivan, who reviewed the history of the Rondout section of the city.

Sullivan recalled the many Jewish merchants of the past and present whose efforts brought prosperity to the downtown area over a period of years.

The historian, a native of the Ponckhockie section, where he was raised and educated, kept the audience in a merry mood as he treated incidents in his humorous manner.

Leonard Miller, president of the society, introduced the speaker.

TEETOTALER AT COCKTAIL PARTY

A distressed wife explains: "My husband is a business man and very often is invited to cocktail parties given by other business firms. He does not drink and, because of this, thinks it is better not to attend these cocktail parties rather than run the risk of being considered a 'wet blanket' by these men. I, on the other hand, do not think he should stay away, as these business contacts are important, and feel that certainly no one will criticize him as long as his attitude is not one of disapproval. Will you please give us your solution to this problem."

It seems to me very important that your husband go, and, as a matter of fact, it isn't at all necessary that he drink. The main thing is not to look disapprovingly at the others. As a suggestion, he might have just a little poured into a glass and hold it. Then when offered more he could say, "I still have some," and he need scarcely touch it!

All Men in White

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother, who is a naval officer, will be married some time this summer. He plans on wearing his white dress uniform. One of the ushers and the best man are also naval officers and they too will wear their uniforms. The problem facing us is the proper attire for the civilian members of the wedding party. Will you help us?

Answer: If possible, they should also wear white suits.

Question About a Hat

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to another state with my husband to a convention. We will be staying in the same hotel where all of the activities will be held. I would like to know if it is necessary to put on a hat to go into the dining room.

Answer: If it is a restaurant where most people come in from the outside, it would be less conspicuous to wear a hat. But even so, it would be entirely proper for you to go without one if you prefer.

What should one serve for a formal dinner, a buffet lunch or supper? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-25, "Menus for Every Occasion," will help you. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

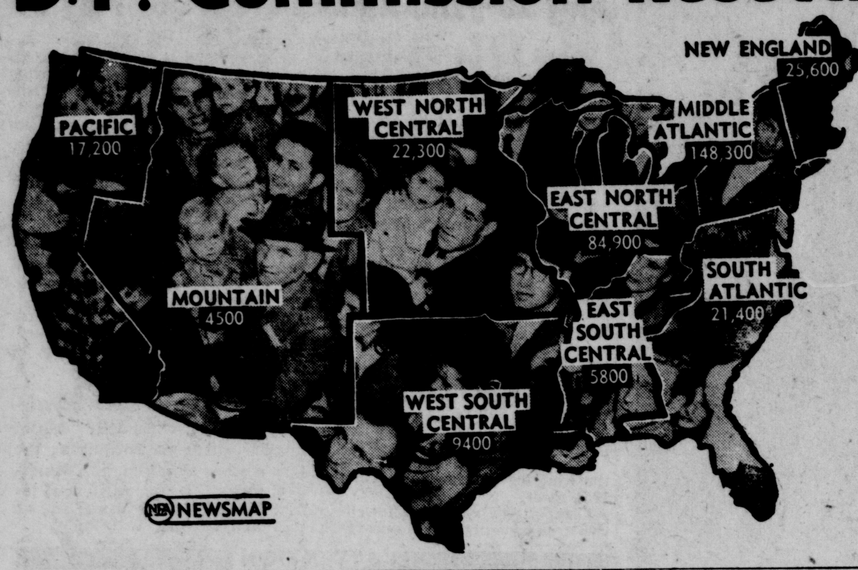
D. P. Commission Resettles 340,000, Now Prepares to Fold



Michigan's new farmers, factory workers settling in Pennsylvania, household workers caught up in New York's hustle-bustle and newcomers to 45 other states are making the grade, according to the Displaced Persons Commission which was organized under the D. P. Act of 1948. The Commission, which expires this year, reports that the fresh faces on the American scene belong to the almost 340,000 World War 2 expellees and refugees brought to this county by the DP Commission. Where the men, women, and children without a country came from and where they have settled is shown respectively by Newsmaps at right and left. Mr. Average DP is about 30 years old, has a wife and child. A farmer or semi-skilled worker, he hails from a country now behind the Iron Curtain, spent 7.7 years in school. As only three DP's have been deported in as many years, he is a good security risk. He was brought to America, his first choice, at an average cost of $229.41. And loves it here!

Veterans to Make Final May 30 Plans

Final arrangements for the observance of Memorial Day in Kingston will be made Wednesday at 8 p. m. at a meeting of the Kingston Veterans' Association. The meeting is scheduled for the American Legion Building, West O'Reilly street.

Although most preliminary details have been worked out by John R. Mayone, representative of the Marine Corps League, there is still considerable work to be done by the KVA before the big parade.

One of the major details is the naming of committees for the proper decorating of the more than 1,300 graves of veterans in the various cemeteries in Kingston.

Since last Memorial Day, 38 local veterans of all conflicts have died and were buried in local cemeteries.

To Appoint Committee

Another committee will be appointed to complete plans for the two memorial services to be held under the jurisdiction of the KVA.

One of the services will be held on the dock at the foot of Canal street Sunday, May 25, at 3 p. m. to honor the war dead at sea. The annual Memorial Day service will be held Friday, May 30, in the municipal auditorium following the holiday parade. Dr. Daniel Poling of New York will be the guest speaker.

One of the new features in the parade this year will be members of the New York State Christian Endeavor Unions who are meeting in Kingston during the holiday weekend.

The Association, which is comprised of three delegates named by the commanders of the veteran organizations, has invited all interested persons to attend the Memorial Day meeting Wednesday night.

Desmond Praises Newspaper Industry

Albany, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—State Sen. Thomas C. Desmond today lauded the newspaper industry for "pioneering in effective use of older workers."

No other industry can compare with it, said the Newburgh Republican, who is chairman of the joint legislative committee on problems of the aging.

"The news industry respects experience," he said in a statement. "It understands that years bring maturity, judgment and know-how. It is comparatively free from compulsory retirements at age 65, which throws men out of many industries when they are still able and productive."

Desmond made his statement in connection with "Senior Citizens' Month," now being observed in New York.

Dodgers and NY Giants Go Out For Defense in NL Flag Race

New York, May 20 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants are going all out on defense, individually as well as collectively, in an effort to gain an advantage in the hot National League pennant chase.

Individual fielding averages released today by the Associate Press Statistical Bureau disclosed that three members of each club are tops in the field at their respective positions.

Records include games played Sunday.

First baseman Gil Hodges (1.000), shortstop Pee Wee Reese (.984) and catcher Roy Campanella (1.000) are the league-leading Dodgers. Reese is tied with the Giants' Alvin Dark for shortstop honors, both having made only two errors while handling 122 chances cleanly.

The other pace-setting Giant glove men are second basemen Davey Williams (1.000) and third sacker Bobby Thomson (.986).

Johnny Wyrostek and Wally Westlake of the Cincinnati Reds and Frankie Baumboltz of the Chicago Cubs head the NL outfielders with perfect records.

In the American League, third baseman Hector Rodriguez of the Chicago White Sox and catcher Clint Courtney of the St. Louis Browns, a couple of first year men, are showing the way.

Rodriguez, purchased from Montreal of the International League last year, has made only two miscues in 102 chances for a .980 average. Courtney, Manager Rogers Hornsby's pride and joy, is tied with New York's Yogi Berra percentage-wise at 1.000 but he has handled more chances than the Yankee backstop.

Other Leaders

Other AL Fielding leaders are first base—Mickey Vernon, Washington (.996); second base—Bobby Young, St. Louis (.992); shortstop—Phil Rizzuto, New York (.993) and outfielders Jim Busby, Washington, Dave Philley, Philadelphia and Irv Noren, New York (1.000).

One of the real National League surprises is the performance of New York's Williams, rapidly establishing himself as one of the outstanding second basemen in the league.

Capably plugging the gap left by Eddie Stanky's departure to the St. Louis Cardinals, the 23 year-old rookie has handled 110 chances perfectly so far this season. This, combined with a spotless mark of 81 chances in 22 games in 1951, puts Williams not too many chances behind the National League record of 320 established by Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals in 1950.

The American League also came up with an interesting feature. Marty Marion, one-time Mr. Shortstop of the Cardinals, is doing a bang-up job defensely for the Browns. Marty ranks behind Rizzuto as the league's number one shortfielder with a .983 average.

Unbeatable Maglie Turns Back Pirates 13th Straight Time

(By ORLO ROBERTSON)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The seven National League rivals of the New York Giants were wondering today if Sal (The Barber) Maglie is ever going to be beaten. And you can't blame the Pittsburgh Pirates if they shake their heads in an emphatic negative manner.

The 35-year-old righthander from Niagara Falls hasn't been beaten this year in racking up seven victories to run his undefeated string over a two-year span to ten. He has met and whipped all teams except the Boston Braves and the Chicago Cubs.

In 62 innings, he has allowed only seven earned runs for the enviable average of 1.02.

The Pirates have a special reason for wondering if Maglie is unbeatable. When he blanked them 4-0 on seven hits yesterday in one of the three games played in the majors, it marked the 13th straight time the curve-ball ace has turned back the cellar-dwelling Bucs.

Maglies' Second Shutout

Third baseman Bobby Thomson supplied the batting power for Maglie's second shutout of the season as the Giants moved back into a tie for first place with the Dodgers, who played a 1-1 tie with the Cubs in a game called by rain after one was out in the top half of the seventh. Maglie's other goose-egg came on April 20 at the expense of the Dodgers.

Thomson drove in all of the champions' runs with a double and two singles to pace an eight-hit attack against lower Howie Pollet, Bob Friend and Ted Wilks.

Billy Loes, who has won four straight for the Dodgers, and Turk Lown hooked up in a hurling duel before rain put an end to the night proceedings. The Dodgers, who made only one hit, were the first to score. In the third inning, Lown lost control and walked Billy Cox, Peewee Reese, Jackie Robinson and Andy Pafko, to force home a run. The Cubs tied it up in the fourth when Toby Atwell walked and went all around on Hal Jeffcoat's double.

Oldtimers Click

In the only game played in the American League, Lou Boudreau again called on his sharp-fielding oldtimers to give the Boston Red Sox a 3-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers. The victory, credited to rookie Bill Henry, lifted the Bosox into a virtual second-place tie with the idle Washington Senators.

Walt Dropo and Clyde Vollmer drove in the winning runs with long flies in the seventh. Ellis Kinder and Mel Parnell, two more veterans, came on to save Henry when the Tigers threatened.

The only other scheduled game, St. Louis Cards at Philadelphia Phils, was postponed by rain.

Unbeatable Maglie Turns Back Pirates 13th Straight Time

(By ORLO ROBERTSON)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The seven National League rivals of the New York Giants were wondering today if Sal (The Barber) Maglie is ever going to be beaten. And you can't blame the Pittsburgh Pirates if they shake their heads in an emphatic negative manner.

The 35-year-old righthander from Niagara Falls hasn't been beaten this year in racking up seven victories to run his undefeated string over a two-year span to ten. He has met and whipped all teams except the Boston Braves and the Chicago Cubs.

In 62 innings, he has allowed only seven earned runs for the enviable average of 1.02.

The Pirates have a special reason for wondering if Maglie is unbeatable. When he blanked them 4-0 on seven hits yesterday in one of the three games played in the majors, it marked the 13th straight time the curve-ball ace has turned back the cellar-dwelling Bucs.

Maglies' Second Shutout

Third baseman Bobby Thomson supplied the batting power for Maglie's second shutout of the season as the Giants moved back into a tie for first place with the Dodgers, who played a 1-1 tie with the Cubs in a game called by rain after one was out in the top half of the seventh. Maglie's other goose-egg came on April 20 at the expense of the Dodgers.

Thomson drove in all of the champions' runs with a double and two singles to pace an eight-hit attack against lower Howie Pollet, Bob Friend and Ted Wilks.

Billy Loes, who has won four straight for the Dodgers, and Turk Lown hooked up in a hurling duel before rain put an end to the night proceedings. The Dodgers, who made only one hit, were the first to score. In the third inning, Lown lost control and walked Billy Cox, Peewee Reese, Jackie Robinson and Andy Pafko, to force home a run. The Cubs tied it up in the fourth when Toby Atwell walked and went all around on Hal Jeffcoat's double.

Oldtimers Click

In the only game played in the American League, Lou Boudreau again called on his sharp-fielding oldtimers to give the Boston Red Sox a 3-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers. The victory, credited to rookie Bill Henry, lifted the Bosox into a virtual second-place tie with the idle Washington Senators.

Walt Dropo and Clyde Vollmer drove in the winning runs with long flies in the seventh. Ellis Kinder and Mel Parnell, two more veterans, came on to save Henry when the Tigers threatened.

The only other scheduled game, St. Louis Cards at Philadelphia Phils, was postponed by rain.

Mitchell Hits .360 Average; Robinson Slips, Has .350 Lead

New York, May 20 (AP)—A hot streak by Dale Mitchell of the Cleveland Indians, which saw him gain 20 points during the past week, moved the hard-hitting outfielder into the American League batting lead.

Mitchell, tied for fourth place last week, collected nine hits in 22 at bats to boost his average to .360.

Last week's leader, Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees, lost nine points and fell to third place, behind Boston's Dom DiMaggio, who has a .343 mark. Rizzuto is hitting .342.

Figures include yesterday's games.

Jackie Robinson, last week's leader in the National, also went into a tailspin, but unlike Rizzuto, the Brooklyn second baseman didn't lose his lead. In 24 at bats he connected safely only six times and his average skidded 43 points to .350.

Outfielder Bob Nieman of the St. Louis Browns went 11 for 21 to send his average soaring from .295 to .341; This put him in fourth place in American League, in front of Eddie Robinson of the Chicago White Sox, who is fifth with a .336 mark.

Tied for 6th Place

Al Rosen of Cleveland and George Kell of Detroit are tied for sizth at .333. Rosen, currently sidelined with a pulled leg muscle, tops the league in homers (8) and in runs batted in (21).

Rookie Hector Rodriguez of Chicago, .320, Eddie Joost of the Philadelphia Athletics, .314, and Bob Avila of Cleveland, .311, round out the top ten.

Del Ennis of the Philadelphia Phils and Joe Adcock of the Cincinnati Reds pulled themselves into the thick of the National League battle and are challenging Jackie Robinson's supremacy.

Ennis, holding down the second slot, picked up four points to bring his average to .345, five behind Robinson. Adcock, in third, went on a spree, going nine for 21, to send his average sailing 27 points to .341.

Musial Perks Up

Frankie Baumholtz of the Chicago Cubs is fourth at .330 and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cards, last year's batting champ, has barged his way into the top ten for the first time this season, with a fifth-place mark of .327. Musial increased his average 33 points by going nine for 19.

Hammering Hank Sauer of Chicago, in sixth place wth a .319 average, leads the league in runs batted in with 34 and is tied with Brooklyn's Andy Pafko for the home run lead with eight apiece.

Completing the top ten are Duke Snider, Brooklyn, .317; Jack Merson, Pittsburgh; and Harry Lowrey, St. Louis, .316, and Whitey Lockman, New York, .314. Lowrey, runnerup last week, collected only two hits in 19 trips and saw his average drop 70 points.

Matthews Clicks Defeating Layne

Portland, Ore., May 20 (AP)—Harry (Kid) Matthews cleared his first major heavyweight hurdle here last night. Matthews, 183½, Seattle, looked impressive in punching out a 10-round decision over Rex Layne, 198½, Lewiston, Utah.

Layne was the first heavyweight of reputation whom Matthews had met.

His manager, Jack Hurley, said after the fight he hoped to sign Matthews for a match sometime in July with Rocky Marciano, the Brockton, Mass., belter who knocked out Joe Louis.

Matthews was just too classy and hit too hard for Layne, a primitive type mauler who nevertheless, holds a decision over heavyweight champion Joe Walcott.

The sharp-hitting Seattle veteran scored the only knockdown of the fight with a right in the second round.

Matthews had his foe in trouble several times again before the end but was content to box and counter-punch without rushing in for the kill. He apparently had developed a healthy respect for Layne's punching power in the first round when the Utah man twice staggered him with lefts to the head.

Record Field Entered In Jersey Dog Show

Madison, N. J., May 20 (AP)—The Morris and Essex Kennel Club show this Saturday—world's largest outdoor dog show in the doggiest country in the world—will have a record field of 2,862 entries.

The elite of dogdom, including the 1952 Westminster winner, Ch. Rancho Dobe's Storm, will vie with the not so well known for medals, trophies and $15,000 in cash.

The gilt-edged show will be held at the spacious, Giralda Farms Estate of Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge on the club's 25th anniversary.

The record field, representing 77 breeds or varieties of breeds, shows an increase of 294 over last year when best in show award went to William F. Holt's Ch. Rock Falls Colonel, an Orange-Belton English Setter.

As usual, Dachshunds top the list with 171 competing for the coveted canine crown. The biggest single class increase is the German Shepherds with 145 entered, 62 more than in 1951.

Ch. Rancho Dobe's Storm, doughty black and tan Doberman Pinscher owned by Mr. and Mrs. Len Carey of Greenwich, Conn., probably will get most of the gallery's attention.

The classy Boxer Storm unseated at Westminster last winter—Ch. Bang Away of Sirrah Crest—is not entered in the Giralda event.

Sufficient parking space will be available for some 25,000 cars.

The size of the show is in keeping with the United States' new standing of "doggiest country in the world." The Gaines Dog Research Center of New York reports that Britain—holder of the title for centuries—gave it up after a recent canine census found the island kingdom's dog population at 4,000,000 as compared to 22,000,000 in this country.

Leaders Are Safe In Bowling Tourney

Milwaukee, May 20 (AP)—None of the participants yesterday at the American Bowling Congress tourney could combine enough skill and luck to move up among the leaders as action wound up on the 59th day of the current meet. The classic ends June 14.

Leading the parade was a doubles tandem from La Crosse, Wis., Bob Wigdal and Albert Brickson, who fired 1,242—35 sticks shy of tenth position. Wigdal banged out 642 on consistent games of 218, 213 and 211, while the latter fired an even 600 on 223, 187 and 190.

A 659 slam was tops in the singles, with Charles Polich, Caspain, Mich., notching the count on 210, 247 and 202. He finished second in last year's ABC tourney singles with 739.

One in 12 Golfers Make Grade for U. S. Open Tourney

New York, May 20 (AP)—It's getting harder and harder for a fellow to get a spot in the United States Open Golf Championship and this year only about one in 12 players who try for it will make the grade.

Entries closed yesterday and when Joe Dey of the United States Golf Association finished tabulating them, he mopped his brow and said:

"Whew! And we thought we had a big entry last year when we set a record high of 1,511. This time—allowing for a recount that may vary it about five in either direction—we have 1,700 entries."

So it's a new record high for the second year in a row for the 52nd annual tournament scheduled for the Northwood Club in Dallas on June 12-13-14 and where it will end no one knows.

For the ordinary guy, though, it's going to be tough. There are 162 places in the championship, but 29 of them will be filled by the big boys who qualify automatically. That leaves 133 places for the lesser known hopefuls to shoot for.

Honolulu's qualifying round will be held on May 26, but the other 27 sectional tests will be on Monday, June 2.

Ben Hogan is the defending champion.

Beichert's Studebakers Ride Top of City Softball League

Beichert's Studebakers stayed on top of the City Softball League Monday with a 4 to 2 victory over the American Legion. The Studebakers are a half game in front of Sickler's Delivery and the Subway Grill.

All of Beichert's tallies came in the third inning, with the Legion moving two across the plate in the first. Joe Fautz and Billy Smith had two hits each for Beichert's with Andy Murphy racking up two for the Legion. Fautz slammed out a double and a triple.

Sickler's made it two out of three by defeating the VFW nine 7 to 2, tallying two in the first inning, three in the second and two in the fourth. Winning pitcher was Kozlowski, who incidentally, also poled out a long homerun for the victors, Farley and Ashdown had two-baggers.

Subway tasted its first defeat of the season in its contest with Hilltop Grill. Ben Freer, who struck out five men, "grilled" the Subway softballers lightly to the tune of 3 to 0. Freer only allowed two hits, one to T. Maines and the other to Bob Schatzel and had the situation well in hand throughout. R. Crosby and A. Gill had two-baggers for the winners.

Kingston Knitting Mill won its first game of the season, pushing Cherny's a little deeper into the cellar. The score was 8 to 5. Ron Hooper and Phil Mandel of the Knitters each had four for four at the plate.

Mitchell Hits .360 Average; Robinson Slips, Has .350 Lead

New York, May 20 (AP)—A hot streak by Dale Mitchell of the Cleveland Indians, which saw him gain 20 points during the past week, moved the hard-hitting outfielder into the American League batting lead.

Mitchell, tied for fourth place last week, collected nine hits in 22 at bats to boost his average to .360.

Last week's leader, Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees, lost nine points and fell to third place, behind Boston's Dom DiMaggio, who has a .343 mark. Rizzuto is hitting .342.

Figures include yesterday's games.

Jackie Robinson, last week's leader in the National, also went into a tailspin, but unlike Rizzuto, the Brooklyn second baseman didn't lose his lead. In 24 at bats he connected safely only six times and his average skidded 43 points to .350.

Outfielder Bob Nieman of the St. Louis Browns went 11 for 21 to send his average soaring from .295 to .341; This put him in fourth place in American League, in front of Eddie Robinson of the Chicago White Sox, who is fifth with a .336 mark.

Tied for 6th Place

Al Rosen of Cleveland and George Kell of Detroit are tied for sizth at .333. Rosen, currently sidelined with a pulled leg muscle, tops the league in homers (8) and in runs batted in (21).

Rookie Hector Rodriguez of Chicago, .320, Eddie Joost of the Philadelphia Athletics, .314, and Bob Avila of Cleveland, .311, round out the top ten.

Del Ennis of the Philadelphia Phils and Joe Adcock of the Cincinnati Reds pulled themselves into the thick of the National League battle and are challenging Jackie Robinson's supremacy.

Ennis, holding down the second slot, picked up four points to bring his average to .345, five behind Robinson. Adcock, in third, went on a spree, going nine for 21, to send his average sailing 27 points to .341.

Musial Perks Up

Frankie Baumholtz of the Chicago Cubs is fourth at .330 and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cards, last year's batting champ, has barged his way into the top ten for the first time this season, with a fifth-place mark of .327. Musial increased his average 33 points by going nine for 19.

Hammering Hank Sauer of Chicago, in sixth place wth a .319 average, leads the league in runs batted in with 34 and is tied with Brooklyn's Andy Pafko for the home run lead with eight apiece.

Completing the top ten are Duke Snider, Brooklyn, .317; Jack Merson, Pittsburgh; and Harry Lowrey, St. Louis, .316, and Whitey Lockman, New York, .314. Lowrey, runnerup last week, collected only two hits in 19 trips and saw his average drop 70 points.

Matthews Clicks Defeating Layne

Portland, Ore., May 20 (AP)—Harry (Kid) Matthews cleared his first major heavyweight hurdle here last night. Matthews, 183½, Seattle, looked impressive in punching out a 10-round decision over Rex Layne, 198½, Lewiston, Utah.

Layne was the first heavyweight of reputation whom Matthews had met.

His manager, Jack Hurley, said after the fight he hoped to sign Matthews for a match sometime in July with Rocky Marciano, the Brockton, Mass., belter who knocked out Joe Louis.

Matthews was just too classy and hit too hard for Layne, a primitive type mauler who nevertheless, holds a decision over heavyweight champion Joe Walcott.

The sharp-hitting Seattle veteran scored the only knockdown of the fight with a right in the second round.

Matthews had his foe in trouble several times again before the end but was content to box and counter-punch without rushing in for the kill. He apparently had developed a healthy respect for Layne's punching power in the first round when the Utah man twice staggered him with lefts to the head.

Record Field Entered In Jersey Dog Show

Madison, N. J., May 20 (AP)—The Morris and Essex Kennel Club show this Saturday—world's largest outdoor dog show in the doggiest country in the world—will have a record field of 2,862 entries.

The elite of dogdom, including the 1952 Westminster winner, Ch. Rancho Dobe's Storm, will vie with the not so well known for medals, trophies and $15,000 in cash.

The gilt-edged show will be held at the spacious, Giralda Farms Estate of Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge on the club's 25th anniversary.

The record field, representing 77 breeds or varieties of breeds, shows an increase of 294 over last year when best in show award went to William F. Holt's Ch. Rock Falls Colonel, an Orange-Belton English Setter.

As usual, Dachshunds top the list with 171 competing for the coveted canine crown. The biggest single class increase is the German Shepherds with 145 entered, 62 more than in 1951.

Ch. Rancho Dobe's Storm, doughty black and tan Doberman Pinscher owned by Mr. and Mrs. Len Carey of Greenwich, Conn., probably will get most of the gallery's attention.

The classy Boxer Storm unseated at Westminster last winter—Ch. Bang Away of Sirrah Crest—is not entered in the Giralda event.

Sufficient parking space will be available for some 25,000 cars.

The size of the show is in keeping with the United States' new standing of "doggiest country in the world." The Gaines Dog Research Center of New York reports that Britain—holder of the title for centuries—gave it up after a recent canine census found the island kingdom's dog population at 4,000,000 as compared to 22,000,000 in this country.

Leaders Are Safe In Bowling Tourney

Milwaukee, May 20 (AP)—None of the participants yesterday at the American Bowling Congress tourney could combine enough skill and luck to move up among the leaders as action wound up on the 59th day of the current meet. The classic ends June 14.

Leading the parade was a doubles tandem from La Crosse, Wis., Bob Wigdal and Albert Brickson, who fired 1,242—35 sticks shy of tenth position. Wigdal banged out 642 on consistent games of 218, 213 and 211, while the latter fired an even 600 on 223, 187 and 190.

A 659 slam was tops in the singles, with Charles Polich, Caspain, Mich., notching the count on 210, 247 and 202. He finished second in last year's ABC tourney singles with 739.

14 Horses Ready For Yonkers Dash

Beichert's Studebakers Ride Top of City Softball League

Beichert's Studebakers stayed on top of the City Softball League Monday with a 4 to 2 victory over the American Legion. The Studebakers are a half game in front of Sickler's Delivery and the Subway Grill.

All of Beichert's tallies came in the third inning, with the Legion moving two across the plate in the first. Joe Fautz and Billy Smith had two hits each for Beichert's with Andy Murphy racking up two for the Legion. Fautz slammed out a double and a triple.

Sickler's made it two out of three by defeating the VFW nine 7 to 2, tallying two in the first inning, three in the second and two in the fourth. Winning pitcher was Kozlowski, who incidentally, also poled out a long homerun for the victors, Farley and Ashdown had two-baggers.

Subway tasted its first defeat of the season in its contest with Hilltop Grill. Ben Freer, who struck out five men, "grilled" the Subway softballers lightly to the tune of 3 to 0. Freer only allowed two hits, one to T. Maines and the other to Bob Schatzel and had the situation well in hand throughout. R. Crosby and A. Gill had two-baggers for the winners.

Kingston Knitting Mill won its first game of the season, pushing Cherny's a little deeper into the cellar. The score was 8 to 5. Ron Hooper and Phil Mandel of the Knitters each had four for four at the plate.

TRAIN YOUNG COON DOG WITH OLDSTER

IT'S THE EASIEST WAY! A GOOD, EXPERIENCED COON HOUND WHO BY HIS VOCIFERATE ACTION, SIMPLIFIES THE TRAINING. KEEP THE LEARNER ON A LEASH THE FIRST TIME OUT TO PREVENT HIS CHASING RABBITS UNTIL THE OLD EXPERIENCED DOG STRIKES A TRAIL AND BEGINS TO RUN IT. RELEASE YOUR DOG TO JOIN THE CHASE.

WHEN THE OLD DOG BARKS "TREED" GET TO YOUR DOG QUICKLY. IF HE BARKS "TREE", FINE! IF NOT, GET HIM AND URGE HIM TO BARK "TREE". THEN HOLD HIM UNTIL YOU KNOW THE SHOT COON IS DEAD BEFORE LETTING HIM SHAKE IT AS LONG AS HE LIKES!

One in 12 Golfers Make Grade for U. S. Open Tourney

New York, May 20 (AP)—It's getting harder and harder for a fellow to get a spot in the United States Open Golf Championship and this year only about one in 12 players who try for it will make the grade.

Entries closed yesterday and when Joe Dey of the United States Golf Association finished tabulating them, he mopped his brow and said:

"Whew! And we thought we had a big entry last year when we set a record high of 1,511. This time—allowing for a recount that may vary it about five in either direction—we have 1,700 entries."

So it's a new record high for the second year in a row for the 52nd annual tournament scheduled for the Northwood Club in Dallas on June 12-13-14 and where it will end no one knows.

For the ordinary guy, though, it's going to be tough. There are 162 places in the championship, but 29 of them will be filled by the big boys who qualify automatically. That leaves 133 places for the lesser known hopefuls to shoot for.

Honolulu's qualifying round will be held on May 26, but the other 27 sectional tests will be on Monday, June 2.

Ben Hogan is the defending champion.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, May 20—William Stevens, Ashokan War 2 veteran was chairman of the meeting Tuesday night which was called for the purpose of acting in the matter of disposing of the Olive District 4, or Ashokan, schoolhouse property. Voters of the district reportedly decided, 20-9, in favor of turning the two-room structure over to the Olive Legion Post who have been endeavoring for the past year to secure it for a post and auxiliary home. Thus it seems probable that the veterans and Legionettes will be able to take possession of the schoolhouse some time next fall.

Farmers in the dairying sections of Greene and Delaware counties are again preparing to cope with the annual menace of the rabies among cattle which are so susceptible to the disease that about half of all cattle bitten by rabid foxes, dogs and other animals will die. Farmers therefore plan to take extra precautions during the present pasturing season, such as spotting the early symptoms, including loss of appetite, lowered milk production and a noticeable change in disposition, in the barn family. The disease if not treated promptly, may cause cattle to become paralyzed and soon die, and also makes them liable to attack and bite human beings.

A wedding anniversary falling Tuesday is that of Jerry and Emilie F. (Castle) Phillips, both of whom were born and brought up in the Olive-Hurley town line section. The couple were married 1914, by the Rev. Edmund T. Byles, pastor of the Ashokan Methodist Church. They have two sons, Francis and Carl, both of whom are World War 2 veterans.

James Wright, a resident of Boiceville for the past seven years and now associated with Alf Edmundsen, Ashokan contractor, is painting the Zeffe house on the trail, occupied for the past two years by the Bremmer family.

Two of the largest residential properties in the village center are on the market, one being the E. Winchell house cornering on two state roads and the other the nearby Leonard Ruckert main house and two bungalows. Local real estate, incidentally, appears to be in the doldrums at present, with only a couple of transfers reported thus far in the spring.

Echo of Waterworks Days: May 16, 1915—Charles Winchell, captain of the ferryboat Transport, spent Sunday with his brother-in-law, Ephraim Weeks. . . . Mrs. Granville Weeks has opened a lunchroom and ice cream parlor in the building formerly used by Basil Cudney as a meat market. . . . Charles MacDonough, Jr., is the new school trustee for the Shokan or Olive No. 3 district.

The Nurses Aid Committee of the Town of Olive met at the home of Mrs. Dorville Boice in Olive Bridge Monday evening, May 12. The committee now has a hospital bed available for public use as well as various other articles needed in a sickroom. Mrs. M. Wiese of Ashokan is in charge of the loan closets. A group of the women are planning to take a course in what to do or what not to do in case of emergency. The course, covering shock, bandaging, resuscitation and transportation, will include two hours of instruction on four evenings in June. Persons interested in taking the course may contact Mrs. Zimmerman or Mrs. Angell. The first lesson is scheduled to take place June 3 in the Olive Bridge firehouse.

Mrs. John H. Porter of Dallas, Texas, who was a summer boarder here for 18 years, is a guest at the Longyear House. Mr. Porter died last year and Mrs. Porter is now planning to locate in Shokan. She is the former Martha Richter, whose brother formerly resided here and at West Shokan.

Clearing skies Sunday, together with the Ashokan Reservoir attractions brought an immense number of motorists to this section. There was also the usual heavy through traffic over the Onteora Trail. Present indications point to a record breaking influx during the Memorial Day three-day interlude.

Callers in the village Saturday included Jack Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ward who made their home here in early married life during waterworks years. Young Ward has recently bought a house on Pearl street near Green. His father is still associated with the N Y City Board of Water Supply, residing in Kingston with his family.

Dog meat and horseburgers are not the only products of old and crippled horses. A silver fox and mink farm up at Sidney Center buys such animals for feeding their livestock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Casablanca and son, Vincent of Washington Heights, motored here and spent Saturday in the village. The Casablancas during the day moved their household effects from the Allen Terwilliger tenant cottage, which they have occupied for several years as a summer home, to their own remodelled bungalow in the village center.

Anne and Betty Gruber of uptown Kingston were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Elmendorf.

Rail Unions Study

as the major obstacle to settlement.

They said that if the carrier demand went into effect workers in many cases would have to travel twice as far and move their homes to new terminals.

Would Lay Groundwork

4. Lay the groundwork for a five-day, 40-hour work week for men in the yards who now work 48 hours, with a four-cent pay boost when the change was made. This four cents would come on top of the basic 37-cent wage boost for all yardmen.

5. Put into effect a cost-of-living escalator clause, tieing wages to the cost of living. Wages would go up or down one cent each three months for each one point change in the Bureau of Labor statistics cost-of-living index.

Inability of railroad labor and management to get together on these and other hotly-disputed operating rules, rather than disagreement over wages, has been the main reason the long dispute was not settled months ago.

President Truman seized the roads in August, 1950, to avert a strike. The three unions, following a three-day strike last March, have been working under a no-strike court order.

A fourth operating union, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, settled its contract dispute a year ago. The Steelman proposal is much the same as the settlement the trainmen agreed to.

More Common in West

Mechanical pickers, planters and cultivators are more commonly used in Western states of the United States in the raising of cotton than is the case in the Southeast.

Cry Arises . . .

swered is this: Will the 1952 late crop be short again and cause a similar situation a year from now?

Preliminary surveys indicate farmers may plant slightly less land to potatoes this year than last year because of opposition to ceiling prices.

Ulster Supplies Short

Potatoes are in short supply in this area but a spokesman for the State Department of Agriculture and Markets says the "danger point" in the shortage has been passed but the potato situation remains "tight". New crop potatoes will shortly begin to arrive in market in quantity.

In Kingston the supply is very limited with many retailers "out" and others limiting the customer to a couple of pounds.

Reminiscent of the war period retailers now find many "new customers" shopping at their stores who seek to include an order of potatoes with some small purchase.

Housewives are urged to limit their purchases until the temporary situation is relieved.

The Albany district Office of Price Stabilization is conducting a "general investigation" according to Harold E. Kortman, director of the enforcement division, as to overcharges and "tie-ins".

Potatoes Are Sold

In many cases seed potatoes are being sold for consumption and charges have been made that over ceiling prices are being charged and that tie-in sales are being made by produce dealers to retailers in order to get more than ceiling prices for potatoes.

This is a system largely used during war days whereby a produce dealer adds to the customer's bill some other article of produce which is not delivered.

The Albany OPS office advised that the "maximum price to be paid for five pounds of U. S. No. 1 grade A new potatoes at retail is 42 cents" in the Albany district.

Market men point out that in the past years when the crop was small, high prices have acted as a brake on demand but ceiling prices which were imposed last January have removed this check. The result has been a greater volume of buying at a time when the supply was low. Disaster conditions in the west have slowed down delivery of the early western potato crop.

So She Got Divorce

London, May 20 (AP)—Mrs. Betsy Clarke was awarded a divorce today because her mate insisted on doing the housework. Mrs. Clarke said husband Sydney, a butcher, took over her role of housewife—right down to cleaning, shopping and cooking—in 1949. Clarke told the judge: "I thought I was a much more efficient housekeeper than she was." Justice Sir Henry Barnard, granting Mrs. Clarke a decree on cruelty grounds, declared: "By long custom it is the wife's duty and the wife's privilege to run the house."

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, May 20—William Stevens, Ashokan War 2 veteran was chairman of the meeting Tuesday night which was called for the purpose of acting in the matter of disposing of the Olive District 4, or Ashokan, schoolhouse property. Voters of the district reportedly decided, 20-9, in favor of turning the two-room structure over to the Olive Legion Post who have been endeavoring for the past year to secure it for a post and auxiliary home. Thus it seems probable that the veterans and Legionettes will be able to take possession of the schoolhouse some time next fall.

Farmers in the dairying sections of Greene and Delaware counties are again preparing to cope with the annual menace of the rabies among cattle which are so susceptible to the disease that about half of all cattle bitten by rabid foxes, dogs and other animals will die. Farmers therefore plan to take extra precautions during the present pasturing season, such as spotting the early symptoms, including loss of appetite, lowered milk production and a noticeable change in disposition, in the barn family. The disease if not treated promptly, may cause cattle to become paralyzed and soon die, and also makes them liable to attack and bite human beings.

A wedding anniversary falling Tuesday is that of Jerry and Emilie F. (Castle) Phillips, both of whom were born and brought up in the Olive-Hurley town line section. The couple were married 1914, by the Rev. Edmund T. Byles, pastor of the Ashokan Methodist Church. They have two sons, Francis and Carl, both of whom are World War 2 veterans.

James Wright, a resident of Boiceville for the past seven years and now associated with Alf Edmundsen, Ashokan contractor, is painting the Zeffe house on the trail, occupied for the past two years by the Bremmer family.

Two of the largest residential properties in the village center are on the market, one being the E. Winchell house cornering on two state roads and the other the nearby Leonard Ruckert main house and two bungalows. Local real estate, incidentally, appears to be in the doldrums at present, with only a couple of transfers reported thus far in the spring.

Echo of Waterworks Days: May 16, 1915—Charles Winchell, captain of the ferryboat Transport, spent Sunday with his brother-in-law, Ephraim Weeks. . . . Mrs. Granville Weeks has opened a lunchroom and ice cream parlor in the building formerly used by Basil Cudney as a meat market. . . . Charles MacDonough, Jr., is the new school trustee for the Shokan or Olive No. 3 district.

The Nurses Aid Committee of the Town of Olive met at the home of Mrs. Dorville Boice in Olive Bridge Monday evening, May 12. The committee now has a hospital bed available for public use as well as various other articles needed in a sickroom. Mrs. M. Wiese of Ashokan is in charge of the loan closets. A group of the women are planning to take a course in what to do or what not to do in case of emergency. The course, covering shock, bandaging, resuscitation and transportation, will include two hours of instruction on four evenings in June. Persons interested in taking the course may contact Mrs. Zimmerman or Mrs. Angell. The first lesson is scheduled to take place June 3 in the Olive Bridge firehouse.

Mrs. John H. Porter of Dallas, Texas, who was a summer boarder here for 18 years, is a guest at the Longyear House. Mr. Porter died last year and Mrs. Porter is now planning to locate in Shokan. She is the former Martha Richter, whose brother formerly resided here and at West Shokan.

Clearing skies Sunday, together with the Ashokan Reservoir attractions brought an immense number of motorists to this section. There was also the usual heavy through traffic over the Onteora Trail. Present indications point to a record breaking influx during the Memorial Day three-day interlude.

Callers in the village Saturday included Jack Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ward who made their home here in early married life during waterworks years. Young Ward has recently bought a house on Pearl street near Green. His father is still associated with the N Y City Board of Water Supply, residing in Kingston with his family.

Dog meat and horseburgers are not the only products of old and crippled horses. A silver fox and mink farm up at Sidney Center buys such animals for feeding their livestock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Casablanca and son, Vincent of Washington Heights, motored here and spent Saturday in the village. The Casablancas during the day moved their household effects from the Allen Terwilliger tenant cottage, which they have occupied for several years as a summer home, to their own remodelled bungalow in the village center.

Anne and Betty Gruber of uptown Kingston were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Elmendorf.

Rail Unions Study

as the major obstacle to settlement.

They said that if the carrier demand went into effect workers in many cases would have to travel twice as far and move their homes to new terminals.

Would Lay Groundwork

4. Lay the groundwork for a five-day, 40-hour work week for men in the yards who now work 48 hours, with a four-cent pay boost when the change was made. This four cents would come on top of the basic 37-cent wage boost for all yardmen.

5. Put into effect a cost-of-living escalator clause, tieing wages to the cost of living. Wages would go up or down one cent each three months for each one point change in the Bureau of Labor statistics cost-of-living index.

Inability of railroad labor and management to get together on these and other hotly-disputed operating rules, rather than disagreement over wages, has been the main reason the long dispute was not settled months ago.

President Truman seized the roads in August, 1950, to avert a strike. The three unions, following a three-day strike last March, have been working under a no-strike court order.

A fourth operating union, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, settled its contract dispute a year ago. The Steelman proposal is much the same as the settlement the trainmen agreed to.

More Common in West

Mechanical pickers, planters and cultivators are more commonly used in Western states of the United States in the raising of cotton than is the case in the Southeast.

Cry Arises . . .

swered is this: Will the 1952 late crop be short again and cause a similar situation a year from now?

Preliminary surveys indicate farmers may plant slightly less land to potatoes this year than last year because of opposition to ceiling prices.

Ulster Supplies Short

Potatoes are in short supply in this area but a spokesman for the State Department of Agriculture and Markets says the "danger point" in the shortage has been passed but the potato situation remains "tight". New crop potatoes will shortly begin to arrive in market in quantity.

In Kingston the supply is very limited with many retailers "out" and others limiting the customer to a couple of pounds.

Reminiscent of the war period retailers now find many "new customers" shopping at their stores who seek to include an order of potatoes with some small purchase.

Housewives are urged to limit their purchases until the temporary situation is relieved.

The Albany district Office of Price Stabilization is conducting a "general investigation" according to Harold E. Kortman, director of the enforcement division, as to overcharges and "tie-ins".

Potatoes Are Sold

In many cases seed potatoes are being sold for consumption and charges have been made that over ceiling prices are being charged and that tie-in sales are being made by produce dealers to retailers in order to get more than ceiling prices for potatoes.

This is a system largely used during war days whereby a produce dealer adds to the customer's bill some other article of produce which is not delivered.

The Albany OPS office advised that the "maximum price to be paid for five pounds of U. S. No. 1 grade A new potatoes at retail is 42 cents" in the Albany district.

Market men point out that in the past years when the crop was small, high prices have acted as a brake on demand but ceiling prices which were imposed last January have removed this check. The result has been a greater volume of buying at a time when the supply was low. Disaster conditions in the west have slowed down delivery of the early western potato crop.

So She Got Divorce

London, May 20 (AP)—Mrs. Betsy Clarke was awarded a divorce today because her mate insisted on doing the housework. Mrs. Clarke said husband Sydney, a butcher, took over her role of housewife—right down to cleaning, shopping and cooking—in 1949. Clarke told the judge: "I thought I was a much more efficient housekeeper than she was." Justice Sir Henry Barnard, granting Mrs. Clarke a decree on cruelty grounds, declared: "By long custom it is the wife's duty and the wife's privilege to run the house."

Navy Chief Backs Palsy Fund Drive

Admiral D. B. Duncan, acting chief of naval operations, Washington, today urged "Americans everywhere" to rally to United Cerebral Palsy's appeal for funds to help the nation's 550,000 palsied children and adults.

In a letter to Leonard H. Goldenson, president of United Cerebral Palsy, Admiral Duncan included the following endorsement of the current drive:

"Thousands of children and adults, victims of cerebral palsy, are stricken annually by one of mankind's greatest cripplers and one of the least understood of all human ailments.

"Funds are needed for research, training and care. We of the navy trust and hope that Americans everywhere will rally to the appeal for funds for this vital program."

Ewing Predicts Program

Asbury Park, N. J., May 20 (AP)—This country will have a national health insurance program in the near future, predicts Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing. Speaking at the opening session of the 74th annual convention of the New Jersey Federation of Labor yesterday, Ewing said he doubted whether the American Medical Association would be able to impose another tax on "honest medical practitioners" for a new "$2,000,000 smear campaign" against national health insurance.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 20 (AP)—Stock prices tilted upward midway in today's market session after an uncertain start.

Gains ranging to more than two points dotted the list.

The improvement was accompanied by a moderate pick-up in the trading pace. Slightly more active demand centered first on the chemical issue before spreading to rails and some other sections of the list.

The upturn showed no sign of breaking the bounds of the narrow trading range of recent sessions, however.

Better gainers included American Cyanamid, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, Du Pont, Union Pacific, Southern Railway, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Amerada Petroleum, Kennecott Copper, Johns Manville and Zenith Radio.

Others on the upside included Radio Corp., Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Electric American Can, Standard Oil (N. J.), New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, U. S. Gypsum, Boeing Airplane and Consolidated Edison.

Curb stocks showed mixed trends but shared in the mid-day improvement. Higher were Colonial Airlines, International Petroleum, Creole Petroleum, McWilliams Dredging and Arkansas Natural Gas 'A'. Depressed were Canadian Southern Oils, South Penn Oil, American Superpower, Ryerson & Haynes and Standard Power and Light.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 60 Beaver street, New York city; branch office, 41 John street, R. B. Osterhoudt, manager.

Navy Chief Backs Palsy Fund Drive

Admiral D. B. Duncan, acting chief of naval operations, Washington, today urged "Americans everywhere" to rally to United Cerebral Palsy's appeal for funds to help the nation's 550,000 palsied children and adults.

In a letter to Leonard H. Goldenson, president of United Cerebral Palsy, Admiral Duncan included the following endorsement of the current drive:

"Thousands of children and adults, victims of cerebral palsy, are stricken annually by one of mankind's greatest cripplers and one of the least understood of all human ailments.

"Funds are needed for research, training and care. We of the navy trust and hope that Americans everywhere will rally to the appeal for funds for this vital program."

Ewing Predicts Program

Asbury Park, N. J., May 20 (AP)—This country will have a national health insurance program in the near future, predicts Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing. Speaking at the opening session of the 74th annual convention of the New Jersey Federation of Labor yesterday, Ewing said he doubted whether the American Medical Association would be able to impose another tax on "honest medical practitioners" for a new "$2,000,000 smear campaign" against national health insurance.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 20 (AP)—Stock prices tilted upward midway in today's market session after an uncertain start.

Gains ranging to more than two points dotted the list.

The improvement was accompanied by a moderate pick-up in the trading pace. Slightly more active demand centered first on the chemical issue before spreading to rails and some other sections of the list.

The upturn showed no sign of breaking the bounds of the narrow trading range of recent sessions, however.

Better gainers included American Cyanamid, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, Du Pont, Union Pacific, Southern Railway, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Amerada Petroleum, Kennecott Copper, Johns Manville and Zenith Radio.

Others on the upside included Radio Corp., Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Electric American Can, Standard Oil (N. J.), New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, U. S. Gypsum, Boeing Airplane and Consolidated Edison.

Curb stocks showed mixed trends but shared in the mid-day improvement. Higher were Colonial Airlines, International Petroleum, Creole Petroleum, McWilliams Dredging and Arkansas Natural Gas 'A'. Depressed were Canadian Southern Oils, South Penn Oil, American Superpower, Ryerson & Haynes and Standard Power and Light.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 60 Beaver street, New York city; branch office, 41 John street, R. B. Osterhoudt, manager.
